Furlough Plan May Be Accepted For U. S. Pay Cuts

Conferees May Agree To Favor Furlough Plan

Administration Plan Of Reducing Government Costs May Win

WOULD REPLACE CUTS IN SALARIES

Senate's Plan Would Be Much Greater Economy Than House Measure

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 10—The administration's furlough plan of reducing cost of government employes without actually slashing salaries probably will be adopted in the final clash on the senate's $130,000,000 economy bill, it appeared today.

With senate and house far apart upon the omnibus economy bill, conference committees met today in the hope of evolving a measure that will win approval of both bodies.

Although the house went on record for a pay cut instead of the plan of payless furloughs, the house had been jockeyed into a weak position in combating the senate's stand.

Must Effect Savings.

As the emasculated economy program passed the house, salaries were cut 11 per cent with an exemption of $2,500, which provided a saving of but $12,000,000 a year. The senate's furlough plan, it is estimated, would save $75,000,000 to $85,000,000.

Rep. McDuffie (D) of Alabama, chairman of the house economy committee and backer of a straight pay cut, was prepared to make a fight for it while Senator Jones (R) of Washington served notice he would not agree to a pay cut without another vote in the senate.

"A good many members of congress will not come back next time unless the cost of government is reduced," said McDuffie.

Yellow safety lines at the intersection of North Mercer and East North streets were being touched up by city painters today. The city keeps the lines well marked.

In addition to learn all there is to be known about the state motor code, etc., Pennsylvania's state troopers are now being given instruction on how to saddle or harness a horse, how to give first aid to an injured animal and how to humanely kill a horse or other animal seriously injured. Previous to the instruction, harness was a puzzle to most troopers, and when an animal fell and was injured, they were unable to render much help.

Superintendent B. J. Watkins' daily routine at the City Rescue Mission is a trying one, for he's the man who gets the chance to fill everybody's barrel of wants. Floyd Gibbons Says National Conventions Will Be Quite Spicy

By FLOYD GIBBONS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, June 10.—Hello everybody.

Hop on board, boys and girls. We're off for that $350,000 pair of conventions in Chicago.

Well, that's a pretty cheap price-tag to hang on them. But what I mean is that $350,000 is the initial cost. Not the upkeep.

You see, the Republicans asked Chicago for $150,000 just to pitch their tent there. Democrats had a bigger deficit, and thinking their show would be bigger and better, anyway, asked $200,000.

Now it's up to Chicago to get the $350,000 back.

New York boosters have been putting out ballyhoo about there being 30,000 conventions here in June.

But these two in Chicago will get more attention than all the New York sideshows combined. And they'll deserve all the headlines they smack out.

There's been big news popping lately. And out there on the lake front, it will all simmer and then boil over and the broth ought to be the spiciest you ever tasted. So if your doubting Uncle Thomas has been telling you these shows are all cut and dried—that they will be the dullest in history—you just tell him to train his specs on Chicago.

Of course, your Uncle Tom's prediction that the Republican convention will be short might come true. It may be short. It may break a record for brevity. But, oh hickory, it won't be both short and sweet.

And the Democratic pow-wow—well, everybody expects it to break the 1924 distance record. But time

Two Men Injured As Truck Plunges After Wild Dash

Two Men Perhaps Fatally Burned In Unusual Accident In Johnstown

(International News Service)

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., June 10.—Two men, one of whom was identified as Harry Kessler, 233 Fitzwater street, Philadelphia, were probably fatally burned here today when their truck made a wild dash down a two-mile hill and was destroyed by fire after crashing into the basement of a home. The other man was not immediately identified.

Rescuers battled the leaping flames but both men were badly burned before they were taken from the wreckage. At Memorial hospital, physicians said they probably would not recover.

In its wild plunge down the hill, the scene of many wrecks, the truck crashed through a meat market and barber shop before it plunged into the cellar. Fire was instantaneous.

Delegation On Waterways Back From Capitol

Find Senators And Congressmen Strongly In Favor Of Development

SENATOR DAVIS ENTERTAINS GROUP

Members of the delegation from Lawrence county who went to Washington early in the week to confer with Senators David A. Reed and James J. Davis and Congressman J. Howard Swick of the local district and John G. Cooper of the 19th Ohio district, relative to the slackwatering of the district streams, returned home yesterday. They report the legislators still firm in their conviction that the tri-rivers project is one which should have early fruition and reiterated their stand in its behalf.

Those in the group were Councilman L. G. Genkinger, president of the New Castle Chamber of Commerce; E. W. Beadel, vice president of the Beaver, Mahoning & Shenango Rivers Improvement association; Dr. H. E. Zerner, Councilman D. O. Davies, representing the South Side Board of Trade; Alex W. Thomas, Alfred W. Chilton, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce and director of the Beaver, Mahoning & Shenango Rivers Improvement association, and Carl Davidson, past president of the Ellwood City Chamber of Commerce and a member of the Ellwood City chamber's waterways committee.

Report Delayed.

In conferences with Senators David A. Reed and James J. Davis and Congressmen John G. Cooper and Dr. J. Howard Swick it was learned that the report of the U. S. army engineers on the survey of these rivers had been unavoidably delayed due to necessary revision of figures, but

American And French Views On Debt Cancelling And Reparations Tune Alike

By ARNO DOSCH-FEUROT

PARIS, June 10.—On the eve of the momentous Lausanne reparations conference, the declaration of the state department at Washington that the United States remain staunchly opposed to cancellation of war debts was hailed in official circles here today as backing France's traditional stand for the "sanctity" of existing agreements.

While the American statement dealt chiefly with war debts, it was interpreted here as meaning the United States also opposes cancellation of reparations payments from Germany, which chimes in exactly with the French viewpoint.

Seeks To Abandon City Bus Service

Traction Company Head Says Curtailment Is Necessary Now

Dwindling Patronage Is Serious To Street Car Company

Thomas C. Moore, superintendent of the New Castle Electric Street railway conferred informally today with council relative to the abandonment of bus service within the city limits owing to a loss of transportation revenue.

The rail executive told officials that the situation has become so critical that we are in danger of losing all the service unless we secure the cooperation of the city" to the extent that the company can curtail unnecessary expense such as bus service.

He stated that it is proposed to ask the public service commission for leave to abandon the bus service and realized, he said there will be some protest but said that, on the other hand abandonment of busses may mean life for the street car transportation.

He prefaced his statement by declaring the decrease in patronage on city cars and busses is alarming every day of operation and has shown a continual deficit while the expense of operation is increasing despite economy practiced everywhere possible.

He said that at a former meeting with council in 1931, it was shown that $89,000 had been borrowed from

PENNY SNUBBED BY OVER HUNDRED

In spite of the fact that it can buy a stick of gum, a box of matches, a chance in a slot machine or a full tank of gas for your cigarette lighter, a penny is still just a measly bit of copper in the opinions of 143 people.

On Thursday a penny was placed on the center of the sidewalk in front of a West Washington street service station, just as an experiment, in these times of depression.

Pedestrian after pedestrian passed on. One hundred forty-three people snubbed it, according to the official count. No. 144 picked it up.

Over Four Hundred Delegates At County Convention Thursday

Notable Addresses Are Heard At Sessions In Westfield Church

Pulaski, Mt. Jackson And New Wilmington Given Special Recognition.

The ninety fourth convention of the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association has gone down in the annals of the organization as one of the most successful ever held, with sessions all day Thursday in the Westfield Presbyterian church at Mt. Jackson, of which Rev. Ross M. Haverfield is pastor.

Over four hundred delegates and representatives were present from the various Sunday schools and churches of the county and Robert Strickler, president, was in charge of the sessions, with D. S. Williams leading the singing; John W. Owens, director and Miss Olive Weaver at the piano.

The morning session opened at 9 o'clock with Dr. C. G. Farr, district superintendent of the Methodist churches of the New Castle district, leading a most devout devotional praise service.

Rev. E. H. Bonsall, young people's superintendent of Philadelphia, spoke on "Religion in the Home" carrying out the convention motto "The Home for Christ and the Church." His talk was most inspirational inasmuch as he speaks with a vehemence of spiritual fervor.

The report of the secretary was given and committees were appointed and inspiring hymns were sung by the audience.

Miss Alice Grimes spoke on "The Campers" telling of the splendid work for young people which is carried on in the training camps. Mrs. J. M. Bailey of Pittsburgh, children's division specialist, told of various methods of instilling the love of Christ in the small child.

Convention Sermon

Rev. Ross M. Haverfield, pastor of the host church, gave the convention sermon, basing his talk on the convention motto, "The Home for Christ and the Church," taking his text from Acts 5:42: "And daily in the temple, and in every house, they ceased not to teach and preach Christ."

In part Rev. Haverfield said: "From the very dawn of creation, the Home has been an integral part of society, and from primeval days to the present hour, the influence of the home has left its indelible impress upon every page of human history."

URGES MICHIGAN STAND ON HOOVER

Would Have Republicans Incorporate Resubmission Plank In Platform

By GEORGE E. DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Exuberant wets today hammered at what they believed would be clinching wedges against any possible further resistance on the part of President Hoover to a definite stand on the prohibition question in the Republican platform.

"A straddle will be fatal," was the burden of their message to the White House.

Warren Visits Hoover.

One of the most politically important callers on Mr. Hoover's engagement list today was Charles Beecher Warren of Michigan, former ambassador to Mexico and Japan, and chairman of the resolutions committee for the Republican convention in 1924.

Warren had announced he would tell the president that "ideas contained in the Michigan prohibition plank should be incorporated in the national platform," to be adopted next week at Chicago.

The Michigan state Republican convention enacted a plank calling for submission of repeal of the eighteenth amendment to state conventions, with a preface which asserted the question was above partisan quibbling because of differences of opinion in the ranks of both parties. The American voter has a sovereign right to settle such a matter at the polls, it was held.

Believe Wealthy Chicago Man Died For Sake Of Wife

Coroner Learns Wealthy Sportsman Had $310,000 In Insurance Policies

MARRIED ONLY TEN DAYS AGO

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, June 10.—The singular theory that Royal C. Vilas sacrificed his life for the financial security of his young bride occupied the attentions of authorities today.

Standing before a mirror in a bedroom of his Glenview country home, the retired manufacturer and sportsman late yesterday pierced his brain with a revolver bullet.

A note addressed to his wife, the former Myrtle Hoglund, indicated that he had planned the suicide in order that she might come into possession of $310,000 insurance money, according to Coroner Frank Walsh.

Note Not Published

The note was not published, but excerpts from it were read by Mrs. Vilas to Coroner Walsh. The coroner said the note indicated Vilas had virtually lost his personal fortune and that the insurance policy represented about the only prospect of financial safety for his bride.

Vilas, 56, was married secretly to Miss Hoglund, 27, ten days ago and the couple had gone to the Vilas country home for a honeymoon. For several years before their marriage the bride had been Vilas' secretary. It was the third marriage for Vilas.

His suicide was the second within his family circle. His first wife, Mrs. Mary Armstrong Vilas, hanged herself with a silk stocking in 1928, seven years after she had divorced him.

BONUS VETS OUST "RED" ARRIVALS

No Welcome For "Reds" At Capital

Detroit-Cleveland Aggregation Is Segregated At Washington

POLICE PREVENT ROUGH HANDLING

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The bonus marchers today tackled the job of building the organization which they believe will accomplish the ends for which they are striving—bonus and a job.

Not just the bonus. Not just a job. They want both, and they assured a congress which they have besieged in increasing numbers they have no idea of leaving until they get them.

The veterans want the bonus, they say, because they feel it is a just debt the government owes. They want a job, they add, because they believe every man is entitled to an opportunity to earn a living for himself and his family. To those two ends they dedicated their work today.

Police Save "Reds"

The marchers stood on firm ground so far as the "Red scare" was concerned today. Two hundred men who came from Cleveland and Detroit and professed belief in communism nearly suffered bodily harm at the hands of the bonus marchers. Only a hurry call for police saved the "Reds" from black eyes, bruised bodies, and perhaps more permanent injuries.

The police segregated the self styled communists, however, and planned to escort them out of the city.

Book Escapes But Supplies Demolished

While en route to Pittsburgh yesterday a truck of the Lawrence Bottling Company, driven by George Boos, was struck by a truck belonging to Moore & Moore of Prospect near Warrendale. Gas drums were jolted out of the truck and one barrel of Coca Cola which weighed around 500 pounds was thrown clear over the truck which is said to have caused the crash.

The Lawrence Bottling Company truck was damaged, but after work of collecting the gas drums and Coca Cola barrels it returned here under its own power. No one was injured.

He said that Phillip Benninghoff did not appear on the first list but has been placed in fifth position on the new list.

When the communication was read practically all of the councilmen addressed the chair asking: "What's the idea?"

"I do not know. This is the first I knew of it," replied the mayor.

It was pointed out by Mayor Mayne that Ward, on the other list, is missing from the present list and that Benninghoff was not on the other list but is now on the corrected list.

In the case of Godwin, the mayor said, Godwin had been granted an increase in his physical re-examination mark having made the average for the civil service test leap from 91 to 94 when his papers were re-examined.

The mayor said the new list from the civil service board "is corrected and certified list of eligibles" and upon motion by Councilman Treser it was accepted and placed on file.

As John Haven had been appointed recently it was thought best to confirm the former action. Council thereupon voted favorably upon a resolution presented by Councilman Genkinger appointing him a policeman and also as chief of police.

Haven, according to the list, was third on the first list, fourth on the new list and under civil service law it is possible to name a policeman from one of the four first eligibles on the list.

FLOYD GIBBONS SAYS CONVENTIONS TO BE QUITE SPICY

isn't going to be the main element in that, either. There won't be much fun there—except to look at.

That's why we ought to be there early, with our tickets all engraved in curlicues like bank notes.

I had a little circulating down in Washington a few days ago. Mixed up with some of the boys who are supposed to rig up those conventions in advance.

Well sir, I never did see so many Democrats and Republicans dreading presidential convention-time. Republicans admit they don't expect any surprises in candidates. That's just the trouble. They aren't at all sure whether the hosses carrying their money—they call them Herb and Charlie—can run as fast as they did in the derby four years ago.

They've both gotten a little spavined knee-sprung from carrying heavy weight. The handicaps will be different. And they'll have to run the other way around the track and jump higher hurdles than they did in 1928. Especially the prohibition and prosperity hurdles.

Democrats down in Washington have a lot of worries, too. They don't know which man to nominate and on top of that they have troubles in common with the Republicans.

Four years ago, both parties could make up their own campaign issues and stick to them. Now they've both got to make the same promises. They've got to prove the same thing in different ways.

In 1928 the Republican chorus could sing, "How dry I am."

Now everybody will be asking Republicans and Democrats, "How wet are you?"

Yes sir. They used to tell you that everything at a presidential convention was cut and dried, long before the keynoter sounded off the first day. Guess things were going on just about like that up until a few days ago.

That's what's got the big party-builders worried. Delegates to these two conventions were all set to carry the same old battle scarred party standards. Then along comes a Betsy Ross, with a brand new flag. Not one—a whole new set.

Those delegates got their instructions weeks ago. Looked then like party leaders would duck new issues in the old-fashioned way. Everything was peaceful.

And then—up jumped the doggondest set of sensations two political parties ever met up with.

Eight thousand hungry war veterans marched to Washington. Camped there. Parade there. Filled the halls of congress. Sat right down on the Potomac and said they'll stay there till they get the remainder of their bonus money.

That upset the applecart in Washington.

But now, a wing of the bonus army is marching on Chicago and there's no telling what they'll do to those conventions.

That voice of hunger sounded a warning to "Do-nothing" politicians.

Right on top of that, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., one of the greatest champions of prohibition, came out against it.

Maybe you think that didn't make the platform-builders squirm.

Delegates—all instructed — will have to write home to the folks about that.

Boys and girls, the life of a delegate to these conventions won't be worth living.

If this was the old days, a Mark Hanna, or a Tom Taggart, or a Boies Penrose might have stepped in and smoothed things out. But those big leaders are all gone and we'll have the fun of watching the little bosses and the delegates themselves, all sticking their fingers in this hot pie.

There'll be plenty to disturb a lot of voters who are used to taking anything they get in the way of candidate promises.

You know, the fellow who didn't have his mind made up about which candidate he wanted back when delegates were being hand-picked, hasn't much choice but to like the presidential candidate and his platform.

But there are the job holders, too. They'll be worried till the last train leaves Chicago, after the second convention.

Why, I learned in Washington that 730,000 people look to the president for jobs. That makes more than a million people who'll have their hearts—and their pocket books—touched by the things we're going to see there on the shores of Lake Michigan.

So hurry abroad, boys and girls. Ringside seats are waiting there in the stadium—the place where the prize fighters dance around under the floodlights and batter each other.

What are a couple of prize fighters, compared to this bout where nearly 2,200 delegates will mix it up for the biggest prize in the United States?

Anyway, there's one good thing about political conventions.

You can take your coat off without being accused of wanting to fight.

that every effort was being put forth to have this report released at the earliest possible date.

Senator David A. Reed, chairman of the military affairs committee, and Senator James J. Davis of the appropriations committee, both reaffirmed their positions on htis project, stating that they were firmly in support of the channelization of these rivers, and that as soon as the engineers' report was submitted they would both do everything in their power to expedite its construction, and while there had been unavoidable and necessary delays in the completion of the engineers' report, yet they feel very optimistic in the matter.

Davis Entertains Group.

Following the conferences with Senators David A. Reed and James J. Davis, Senator Davis was host to the Lawrence county delegation at luncheon in the senate dining room, and in the course of the luncheon requested that the delegation convey to the residents of the tri-rivers district the deep interest felt by himself and Senator Reed in this waterways development and assurance of their firm support of it.

Following these conferences Congressman Dr. J. Howard Swick stated he would put forth every possible effort in support of the development of the Beaver, Mahoning and Shenango rivers slackwater project.

His death was sudden and unexpected and comes as a shock to his many friends here and in Sharon, where he resided after leaving this city. He suffered a heart attack several weeks ago, but quickly recovered at the time and his health had apparently been satisfactory since that time.

At the time of his death he was general superintendent of the Duquesne steel works of the Carnegie Steel Company. He was actively identified with the growth of the steel business in the Shenango valley district for many years.

He went from this city to Sharon, where he held various positions in the Carnegie Steel Company plant there, his last position there being general superintendent of the Farrell works. He left Sharon last May to become head of the Duquesne plant. He was active in civic affairs in the places where he was located. He was a member of the Episcopal church. SEEKS TO ABANDON CITY BUS SERVICE the parent company to insure continuance through 1932 and it was the hope then that normal times would prevail within the year.

"However, there seems to be no immediate relief in business activity and no one can indicate that normal times will become effective for a long time.

"In order to try and save the transportation system for this city" Moore added "it has been decided by the company to ask for the abandonment of our city but line service."

Moore said busses now serve territory in Grant, Sampson and Jefferson street. He said it is frequent and attractive yet has not paid operating expense.

He pointed out that trip after trip is made without a single passenger, and said that this situation is particularly true of the Grant and Sampson street route.

"It is possible with the assistance of council to save the operation now served with street cars since the withdrawal of busses would permit us to discontinue the garage expense which does not justify the small number of busses which we use," Moore stated.

"These busses are in such condition that renewal or heavy maintenance expense is necessary, even at present and within a short time would have to be replaced with new equipment and we are in no condition to renew or buy new equipment."

Moore said that in making an application to the public service commission to abandon the busses the commission would probably be guided by the action taken by council. He said he realized that the council would receive some protests from patrons now using the service.

"However the fact remains" Moore said to council "the situation is so critical that we are in grave danger of losing all the service unless we secure the cooperation from the city and the help which will enable our people to curtail unnecessary expenditures, such as bus service."

He said the entire system, if discontinued, would affect more than 60 people, many of them in service more than 20 years, most of whom are home owners and men who had devoted their lives to the service. He said it would be a calamity if their jobs were sacrificed and he said that if such occurred his would be gone also.

Moore said he had asked the company to take the matter up with council so that he would acquaint them with the facts. He requested that the officials give the matter careful consideration and he would withhold the application to the commission for a week.

Council listened to Mr. Moore present his request but made no decision as to what action they would make in regard to the proposed abandonment of the bus service.

It's human nature to want to have inside information on whatever is going on in any line and for that reason let us give you the absolute low-down on how to forget all your troubles for an afternoon or evening.

Every one is interested in the youth of the country—"Young America"—and now we are fortunate indeed in securing a talking picture just a little different than anything you have ever seen before

While it is a picture dealing with boys and a wonderful picture for children, it has an exceptional adult appeal. It is a picture that every one will enjoy.

It was directed by the ace director of the talkies—Frank Borzage—the man who directed "Seventh Heaven," "Bad Girl," "After Tomorrow," and other hit pictures.

It has as its stars Spencer Tracy, Doris Kenyon, Bobby Conlon, Ralph Bellamy, Beryl Mercer and a stellar supporting cast.

The picture is "YOUNG AMERICA" and it has created a sensation wherever it has shown and of course it will be at the VICTOR THEATRE for 2 days starting tomorrow.

MAYBE THIS EXPLAINS IT

HERE is a story from Kansas that may point a moral if it does not adorn a tale.

The Wichita Chamber of Commerce recently conducted a little experiment. Ten men were given $10 each with the following instructions: "Go to some Wichita store and make a trifling purchase of 50 cents or less. If the clerk offers to sell you anything else, buy it regardless of what it is and continue to buy whatever is suggested until your $10 is gone."

At the end of the day, the ten men brought back $94.60 of the $100 with which they started! Which means that ten Wichita clerks with a wide open chance to sell a hundred dollars worth of goods merely for the asking managed to get an average of 54c apiece.

All of which suggests the query whether the chief reason business has not started climbing back to normal is not in part the fact that business men refuse to go after it, but sit around waiting for Santa Claus to come and shower them with presents. Take these Wichita clerks, for example. The idea that business is "rotten" has been pounded into them so hard that when a man came in and modestly asked for a handkerchief it never seemed to occur to them that he might also need a new necktie or a new pair of socks or a new hat. They just took his 25c and let him go out the door without making the slightest effort to sell him anything else.

The Iola Kansas Register which tells the story, winds up with this admonition:

"Cheer up World and snap out of it! That is all that's needed."

DREAMERS—AND RESULTS

Scientists are not an unromantic lot whose imaginations are imprisoned in laboratories and test-tubes. There are dreamers among them whose visions are as fantastic as Alice in Wonderland, and as long as they dream the world will have its romance and adventure.

There was Sir Charles Parsons, inventor of the steam turbine, who advocated the sinking of a shaft 12 miles in diameter to tap the internal heat of the earth. Georges Claude spent a million dollars to prove that there is enough heat in the surface waters of the tropics to run a low-pressure steam engine. Piccard ascended 10 miles into the stratosphere in an aluminum ball. Professor Goddard is experimenting with a type of rocket which he hopes will make interplanetary transportation possible.

Another member of this distinguished company of dreamers and romanticists is Dr. F. Jentzsch. His great adventure is the creation of a searchlight capable of casting a beam of light upon the moon visible from the earth. The best he has done yet is a searchlight visible at a calculated altitude of 21 miles. And the moon is 238,857 miles distant! Dr. Jentzsch now knows that he will never illumine the moon but his romancing has led to the discovery in the atmosphere's luminosity unexpected breaks that may bear some relation to the amount of hydrogen, helium and other gases that occur at different heights.

Most of the realities of today are the result of yesterday's dreaming.

DEMOCRATS WANT "PORK" AND PLENTY OF IT

Following the lead of Speaker Garner the Democrats of the house—and they are in a majority—have declared for the "pork barrel." They want pork—and plenty of it. Their bill is an atrocity. Restive because leadership in national affairs has come from the white house—a leadership which they have been obliged to follow to a considerable extent—they have been anxious throughout the session to find something in the way of an issue that might appeal, if not to the intelligence of the country, at least to mass psychology. They think they have found it in this bill given them by Speaker Garner, which is a resort to the old days when pork barrels were in high favor in congress.

The measure calls for an expenditure of $2,300,000,000. Of this amount the Reconstruction Finance Corporation is authorized to loan $300,000,000 to states for relief purposes. There is no contention here, since the plan proposed by a committee of Democrats of the senate is in accord and the program of President Hoover incorporates it. The house Democrats would authorize the Reconstruction Corporation to increase its capital by $1,000,000,000 and lend the money for self-liquidating constructive purposes. The senate Democrats would make it $1,500,000,000. But now comes the split. The house gives $100,000,000 outright for federal relief and on top of this piles up $1,200,000,000 for public works—for post offices, for numerous projects—much of which would be wasted on unnecessary and unproductive schemes which would afford but comparatively small additional employment. Every dollar of this $1,200,000,000 would have to be raised by bond issues. The senate Democrats content themselves with a $500,000,000 bond issue—but it means that much additional debt just the same.

Against bond issues the Hoover administration has set its face. There is no excuse for them. The government is spending many millions on public projects—all that it can spend without undermining the budget. The administration plan is sane. It is willing that the Reconstruction Corporation should lend $300,000,000 to the states for relief, when a state is in financial difficulty. It would increase the capital of the Corporation by $1,500,000,000, the money to be loaned to political subdivisions and to corporations or companies or associations for starting or developing enterprises that promise to be profitable and to give permanent employment to the unemployed. But bond issues—no.

This bond issue is purely political and in a considerable degree demagogic. The Garner scheme is a gigantic raid on the taxpayers. The half billion bond proposition of the Senate Democratic Committee is also a raid to that extent. The administration program calls for no increased debt, no increased taxation, but offers greatly enlarged employment, with the Reconstruction Corporation's money invested in enterprises that will prove valuable. There is the difference between genuine leadership and the other kind that plays to the galleries of the unthinking.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

All Of Us

We Get Along
We Pick Up Things
We Are Like the Frog

By MARSHALL MASLIN

Little by little we learn a few things.

A few things about living.

If we live long enough.

It's a pity, in a way, that we can't be like the insects and the animals that seem to know all that's necessary, by the storing of instincts, when they are born. . . . How to get food and how to find a mate and how to build a nest and how to avoid danger—and how to grow gracefully—and other such things.

But we don't know. We haven't the instincts or they are all covered over, like old circus posters on a barn wall. . . . We fumble. We use the system of trial and error. We put our infant hands on hot stoves and burn them and learn not to put our hands on hot stoves. We learn how to tell the truth and we learn how to lie. . . . We pick up a few hints on how to get along with people. With boys, with girls. With men, with women. . . . . We strike a rough balance between working and loafing, between foolishness and wisdom, between dreams and action, between eating what's good for us and eating what we like.

After a while, after many pains and humiliations and regrets and excitements, we shape ourselves into something workable. . . . We are like the frog in the deep well that fell back two feet every time he jumped up three, but finally did manage to get out. . . . We aren't very clever. We haven't many sure instincts. We are always thinking when we should follow our hunches, following our hunches when we should be doing some useful thinking. We confuse hopes with facts, fool's gold with the real thing, muscle twinges with appendicitis pains.

That's the way it is. We tramp along the road through life and we pick up a few useless facts or excellent fairy stories along the way. We learn that this road leads to trouble and that other one to a measure of satisfaction; one road is safe and dull, another is dangerous but exciting. We can take our choice. . . . We change, too, with the years. Our powers change, our wishes change. We aren't what we used to be and we're glad we are not. We never get to perfection but we work out an easier adjustment to the world we're living in. . . . The young fellows sneer politely at the older fellows, but the old codgers don't mind—they had their sneering days, too.

It's all very interesting.

THE PRACTICAL SIDE

She looked at him and smiled, and he Forgot about his poverty.

The skies were gray and damp the air,
But, oh, her face was wondrous fair!

While arm in arm they walked along,
In all this world was nothing wrong.

Day after day upon the street
At two o'clock they planned to meet.

And in their dreams of love were lost
All sordid thoughts of cash and cost.

In such exquisite hours and nice,
Who'd think of bills for meat and ice,

And spoil the glory of the day
By mentioning rent they'd have to pay?

He popped the question! She replied
By promising to be his bride.

Now back to where he was before,
He's thinking sordid thoughts once more.

And many a fretful hour is lost
In wondering just what carpets cost.

Bonus Army Assailed For Method Of Making Demands

Responsibility Of Those Who Fought For Nation In Cause Of Orderly Government Is Emphasized In Comments From Every Source

Regret that former soldiers of the government should engage in the demonstrations of the march of the bonus army is expressed throughout the nation. The danger of bonus legislation is recognized, though it is held that relief for unemployment should be provided by some sound method. The radical phase is viewed lightly as representing only a small percentage of the whole project. The duty of congress to stand unitedly against unsound legislation is a subject of much comment.

"It is the duty of every officer, both public and of the veterans' organizations," says the PITTSBURGH PRESS, "to do everything in his power through the use of reason and argument, to stop this movement, the result of which can only be to multiply human misery." The CHARLESTON (W. Va.) DAILY MAIL advises that "the right of these or any other group to petition congress is not disputed," but the petitioning "should be done in an orderly way, not by a huge crowd dependent upon charity for sustenance." The LINCOLN STATE JOURNAL holds that "all straight thinking Americans rebel at an attempt to govern by demonstration."

The FORT WORTH STAR-TELEGRAM recalls "the famous activity of the king of Spain and his 10.00 men," and concludes that "the pity lies in the fact that very much energy has gone to waste that might have been directed toward individual subscription to better conditions." The CHARLESTON (S. C.) EVENING POST voices the condemnation: "It is a disturbing exhibition and a discouraging situation. So much has been promised for the veterans of the World war of patriotic service, of security to the nation's institutions, of example in respect of the laws; so much has been declaimed in denunciation of imaginary enemies of the government, that this demonstration of lawless method of procedure toward enforcement of a dubious claim against the government by men who, for all that has been proclaimed of them, should be the last to resort to violence and importunity, is more than disquieting."

The radical aspect and the responsibility of congress are discussed by the WASHINGTON EVENING STAR, with the statements: "The cause of the bonus, which is a poor one at present, will certainly not be improved by the participation of radicals. The hint at an elaborate program of demands upon congress shows that the bonus is but an excuse for this Communist-promoted gathering. * * * The time to have stopped the march of the veterans on Washington was last December when the representatives of the American people in congress assembled had the onportunity to spike, once and for all, the fantastic schemes clothed in legislative form for raids on the treasury in the name of the veterans or other special groups." The BOISE IDAHO STATESMAN asserts: "The responsibility for holding out the false hopes to the veterans must be placed on the shoulders of members of congress supporting the bonus."

"The veterans' organizations will realize that the basis of the plea for an extra bonus, in which many joined without proper thought, was wrong," declares the MILWAUKEE JOURNAL, with the thought that "in a time of great need, they asked that government money be distributed not according to the need." The ROCKFORD REGISTER-REPUBLIC feels that "this is not a happy position for any former service man to place himself in, when the only request that is made of him by a harassed nation is for a little more time in which to straighten out its tangled finances."

The CHICAGO DAILY NEWS is convinced that "rejection of the proposal for immediate payment of the bonus is, of course, essential to the country's economic recovery and security," and that paper avers that "such men should exercise a steadying influence, rather than encourage acts of lawlessness."

"It would be better if all lobbyists and all seekers after special favors would go home and leave congress free to legislate for the nation as a whole," in the judgment of the BALTIMORE SUN, while the OKLAHOMA CITY TIMES makes the comment on the problem that is involved in demands for aid: "The long march of this bonus brigade emphasizes a situation that now becomes of greater moment than bonus legislation. That group could not have been lured on such a visionary expedition, if most of those undertaking it had not been in desperate straits. Unemployment has something to do with the unreasonable demand of those veterans who seek this cash payment regardless of the consequences, but the idle army is more numerous than all the veterans. Some seven million potential toilers are idle through no fault of their own. Charity is niggardly and unpleasant to most of those who take its pittance, and not nearly all the unemployed are getting it. Men, whether veterans or not, are likely to think harshly of a government or a nation which permits this condition. What government cannot do, finance and industry must try to achieve. The richest man has a stake in this problem. The well-to-do may dodge immediate hardships, but the danger is national."

"The spirit displayed," as viewed by the GARY POST-TRIBUNE, "is not so different from what one might expect from Communists. The attitude of the army is lawless and tends to incite violence. These veterans seem to think that their service in the army in the late war gives them special rights that are granted to no other citizens and which they would oppose being granted any other citizens. We hope this attitude is not that of veterans generally and we know it is not the attitude of a very large number of veterans. Nevertheless it is plain that many veterans are willing to take advantage of their special position to set themselves apart as a class unto themselves. The growing expenditures of the Veterans' Bureau instance the rapid growth of this idea. The march of the army is the first outbreak on a noticeable scale but it will not be the last unless the less demanding and more thoughtful veterans take a larger interest in veterans' affairs."

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

ANOTHER TRAGEDY

Just now society is greatly disturbed over the type of mind that has contributed to the Lindbergh tragedy. Yet, society, and human confidence are being continually destroyed by a force much more serious. It is malicious gossip.

Shooting a man in the back is a charitable act when compared with the destruction of character through gossip and lies. Gossip is never based on truth. If you really wish to help an individual, take the gossip you hear direct to the person being injured, get the facts and you will seldom find anything wrong. Today, business and human happiness are being destroyed by fear and suspicion.

We can help correct this condition by living and acting the truth, keeping our own house in order and giving the other fellow a square deal. "All things whatsoever ye find that men should do unto you, do ye even unto them," is not only sound religion, but also a wonderful philosophy for the guidance of human relations.

TRAIN TALKERS

One of the most annoying of bores is the man who insists upon carrying on a conversation with fellow passengers in railroad or bus travel.

Some folk plan to do some thinking or worthwhile reading during a long train trip.

But a gabby seat-mate sometimes makes connected thought impossible.

The idle fellow with over-anxiety for conversation has little on his mind and therefore his talking has nothing instructive, interesting or enlightening to recommend it.

It is surprising how persistent such a fellow becomes in his efforts to engage in conversation, in spite of rebuffs.

There are times when nearly all men welcome an opportunity to speak to some one who sits near, when a bit of relaxation is needed.

But such occasions are infrequent.

Most people who travel desire to be let alone en route and do not care to chat with "pick-ups".

The persistent talker on a train is not favorably received.

It is a bad habit to cultivate.

If you are not a thinker, a train ride is a good time to get into such a habit.

NURSES CLASS IS GRADUATED

much of useful instruction to the members of the graduating class.

The address was along the line of the wonderful opportunities that are afforded the nurse to do something of real merit in this life. Father Dunn said among other things, "I am indeed happy to see so many here to honor the graduating class of 1932, the members of which have reached the golden goal of their life and ambition.

"The members of the class are now beginning a new life full of hope and joy.

"What a wonderful profession is nursing. It is an instrument placed in your hands by God for the aid of suffering humanity. Nurses are indeed Angels of Mercy.

"Christianity was the means of starting a social evolution, that transferred the world into a new civilization beyond all dreams of men.

"With Christianity and its new civilization, came the care of the sick and helpless and the erection of hospitals to care for sick humanity.

"It is your privilege through the course of study that you have just completed to share in this wonderful work, that is conceived and carried on through the development of Christianity."

Receive Diplomas

Adolph Green, president of the hospital board, presented the diplomas to the members of the graduating class. In presenting them he said to the members of the class, "This is a passport to your future life. Use it with honor to your profession and credit to the New Castle Hospital.

Those receiving diplomas were: Margaret Bertha Huntley, Youngstown, O., Elizabeth Regina Winter, Wampum; Cecelia Kathleen Beatrice, Wampum: Elizabeth Helen Meszaros of Youngstown; Margaret Ann Keebler, East Palestine; Mary Elizabeth Hastie, Russelton, Pa., Ruth Adelaide Brown, New Castle; Kathryn Agnes Driscoll, Youngstown; Leona Irene Rudolph, Slippery Rock and Grace Althea Updegraph, Princeton.

Concluding speaker of the evening was Dr. J. Lumen Popp, who spoke most interestingly on what the medical profession expects of the nurse and also spent some time in discussing what the profession means to the nurse as an individual. He called attention to the meaning of class motto "Fidelity To Duty" and stated that there were four duties of the nurse, namely, duty to humanity, society, friends and herself. Discussing this at some length he showed how a nurse could get the utmost out of life, through helpfulness to others.

Music of Program

Music of the evening's program was of an exceptionally high standard and included several selections by the Emery Orchestra, solo selections by James R. MacKenzie, Miss Bertha Pritchard Taylor and Leslie Roberts and a duet number by Messrs. MacKenzie and Roberts. The accompanists of the evening were Roy Strobel for Messrs. MacKenzie and Roberts and Miss Olive Fern Sanford for Miss Taylor.

As the evenings program came to a close, the members of the Sisters of St. Francis from the local hospital followed by the members of undergraduate classes of the School of Nursing left their places in the front of the auditorium and acted as an advance escort to the members of the graduating class, who left the stage and followed them from the auditorium. The crowd followed and the members of the class held an informal reception in the lobby of the school for some time. Graduates of the School of Nursing acted as ushers, being in the regulation nursing uniform.

Vets Tri-County Council Meets

Fine Program Is Staged For Visitors In Danceland Last Evening

With 150 present from Mercer, and Butler counties, the Harry L. McBride Post and Ladies Auxiliary proved entertaining hosts at the monthly meeting of the Tri-County Council of the V. F. W. and its Auxiliary here last evening, the meeting being held in Danceland.

Separate business sessions were held during the early part of the evening, when discussion of encampment plans was held. The state color bearers, Mrs. Twila Bolt of Sharon, Mrs. Gertrude Smith of Butler, and Mrs. Floss Potter of New Castle put on the floor work in preparation for the encampment next week at Hazelton.

Grove City post and auxiliary invited the Tri-County council to meet as their guests at Memorial Park, Grove City, on Thursday, July 14.

Part of the entertainment consisted of numbers by Shenango high school pupils, as follows: Boys quartet, "Down in Mobile," Harry Marshall, Durwin Collingwood, Paul Mooney, Francis Clark; girls duet, "Please Don't Talk About Me," Helen Houk and Helen Hill; double mixed quartet, "Deep River", Helen Hill, Edna Myers, Helen Houk, Lucille Brown, Harry Marshall, Durwin Collingwood, Francis Clark and Paul Mooney; duet, "By My Side," Helen Houk and Harry Marshall. Miss Helen Koski accompanied them at the piano.

The McBride Post bugle and drum corps under the leadership of Recruiting Sergeant J. W. Thompson then staged an exhibition which was highly complimented. The corps is one of the snappiest musical organizations in this section of the state, and much of the credit is due the efforts of Sgt. Thompson, who as drill sergeant, has drilled them untiringly during the past winter. They executed a number of intricate drills.

Refreshments were served by the standing entertainment committee and the special committee consisting of the officers of the McBride Post Auxiliary, after which dancing was enjoyed.

Peace Caravan Auto Makes Stop

In New Castle Enroute To National Conventions At Chicago

In a small roadster, gayly decorated with flags and banners, one of the units of the To Chicago Caravan passed through New Castle on Thursday evening enroute to the political convention from Philadelphia. This car was sent out by the Society of Friends of Bucks County, Pennsylvania, and is one of many from every state in the Union which will meet in Chicago for a huge peace demonstration. Robert Atkinson, a well known fruit grower from Wrightstown, Thomas Marshall, of New Hope, recent Yale graduate and one of five who sailed around the world on a two year cruise, and Mary Hobson Jones of Pottstown, Educational Secretary of the Women's International League for Peace and Fredom in Pennsylvania were members of this particular delegation. The purpose is to make clear to the political leaders that the people want peace.

Hundreds of men and women, representing over 25 peace organizations, will gather in Chicago to urge the adoption of a concrete and definite peace plank by the two major political parties.

Roosevelt May Select Bowers As Nominator

Governor Roosevelt Being Urged By Friends To Pick Man Calibre Of Claude Bowers

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 10— A movement to have Claude G. Bowers, eminent author and orator, nominate Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt for the presidency at the Democratic convention, was under way today among the latter's followers on Capitol Hill.

The governor's friends urged the selection of Bowers for the important nominating speech, because of the prominence of the orators chosen to place the names of other candidates before the convention. The "draft Bowers" movement was spurred by announcement that Gov. Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland, would be nominated by Richard F. Cleveland, a son of the late President Grover Cleveland.

Select Orators

Roosevelt's two leading rivals for the Democratic nomination already have chosen orators for the nominating speeches. The name of former Governor Alfred E. Smith will be presented by Gov. Joseph B. Ely, of Masachusetts. Senator Tom Connally of Texas, will offer the name of speaker John N. Garner to the convention. These developments caused the Rosevelt advisers to insist on Bowers for his nominating speech.

Nearly Fifty Girls Will Go To Y. W. Camp

First Group Of Girls Launch Week At Camp East Brook Saturday

ACTIVITIES WILL START BEFORE NOON

Nearly a half hundred girls of Castle and vicinity between the ages of 8 to 14 years will on Saturday morning commence a week of outdoor life at Camp East Brook.

Everything is in fine shape at the camp today. A splendid group of experienced leaders are lined up to spend the season at this pretty resort for girls maintained by the New Castle Y. W. C. A., and will be there to greet this first crowd of girls tomorrow morning.

Camp leaders for this summer are as follows:

Marian Wilson—program director.
Anne Cain—swimming instructor.
Virginia Duff—music and campfire.
Lenora Beall—handcraft.
Julia Gordon—dramatics and tennis.
Margaret Fischer — assistant swimming, nature and woodcraft.
Marguerite White—business manager.

Parents are requested to give the girls time to make their own adjustments to camp life by not visiting them Sunday but waiting until Wednesday, June 15. At that time parents and friends are invited to visit the camp between the hours of 3 to 9 o'clock in afternoon and evening. If they wish, they may make reservations for supper at camp by calling the Y. W. C. A., 6120. Supper charge is thirty-five cents.

Parents are also asked not to send cakes and candy to the campers. The girls may spend five cents a day at the camp if they desire. Candy and postage stamps will be sold during certain hours at camp.

Campers are asked to bring, among their supplies, two or three double warm blankets.

It is announced from the Y. W. C. A. today that all campers must be at East Brook between the hours of 11 to 12:30 o'clock Saturday morning, in order that the schedule of activities can start right then and be carried along in regular channels throughout the first day.

SCOUTS TO CRUISE LAKE ERIE COURSE

City Group Joins Coast Guard Tomorrow At Erie; Sailing To Buffalo

Final arrangements have been completed for the cruise of the Seascout unit "Lawrence" according to William Toner, local Seascouting committee chairman. The crew will leave New Castle at six o'clock tomorrow morning and are due to embark aboard the S. C. 219 at Erie, by nine o'clock. Boatswain Hantman is in command. The vessel will get under way for Buffalo, and en route the Seascouts will take their tricks at the wheel, will plot the course and otherwise get the instruction they require for their weekend cruise work. WOULD USE SCIENCE TO CURB RACKETEERS

(International News Service)

DENVER, June 10.— Modern science should focus its attention on the social problems growing out of the activities of racketeers, Chancellor Frederick M. Hunter of Denver university told delegates to the twelfth annual convention here of the southwestern division of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

"It is a wonderful achievement when scientists can look through a 200-inch lens and see 200 million light years into space," Chancellor Hunter declared. "But right here in our own world we have serious problems which the best scientific minds available are needed to solve. Perhaps science can discover some formula for curing such ills as unemployment, racketeering and inefficiency in government."

Russia's system is nicer. The Government supports the same ones who support it.

Recovered from the injuries he sustained when his plane crashed at North Grafton, Mass., Captain Frank Hawks, famous speed ace, is shown after his release from the Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston, as he inspected the wreckage of his celebrated mystery plane at East Boston Airport. FIND HOME OF FIRST ANTIQUE COLLECTOR

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, June 10.—Discovery of two well preserved Sumerian relics of 2400 B. C. in a house which was not erected until 2000 years later, has led archaeologists from the University of Pennsylvania and British museums to believe they have uncovered the home of the first antique collector in the world.

The objects, an unbroken mug of grey stone and a straightsided bowl of dark, polished soapstone, were discovered at Ur of the Chaldees, where a joint expedition from the two museums had just completed its tenth season of achaeological work.

According to word received recently from C. Leonard Woolley, director of the expedition, the bowl is one of the finest examples of its period ever found. On it are carved tht figures of five bulls with the bodies seen in profile and the heads cut in the round.

LIVES 61 YEARS AFTER "FATAL" WOUND

(International News Service)

HAMBURG, Germany, June 10.—"The man for whom good and bad luck always came late" has died. He was Prof. Karl W. Augustin, 88, for 31 years high school instructor. His death, the physcian's certificate say, was due to a wound received in the Franco-Prussian war of 1870-71", and came 61 years later than predicted when he was carried into the German field hospital at Le Mans.

In 1899, 28 years after he had been discharged from the service as incapacited, he was promoted to the rank of first lieutenant by the Imperial War department which said that "through an oversight he was not notified of his promotion in the army list of 1870", that is, just before the war started.

"PARALYSIS TICK" ATTACKS CHILDREN

KAMLOOPS, B. C.—An invasion of wood ticks was being fought here by residents of the city following the serious illness of two children attacked by these parasites.

The tick attacks any part of the body, but usually at the roots of the hair on the head. Parents have been advised to immediately call a physician if their children begin suffering from an ailment they are unable to diagnose.

The parasite is nicknamed "paralysis tick". It is particularly troublesome in the spring of the year when found in young sheep and cattle. Officials advise stock owners to take precautions against the scourge.

Schnader Gives His Opinions On Special Session

Attorney General Outlines Three Alternatives For Raising Relief Funds

ACCORD GROWING FURTHER APART

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, June 10—Agreement on a legislative program for a special session grew less probable than ever today and views of those essentially a part of the harmony program demanded drifted farther apart.

Attorney General William A. Schnader was the latest to advance an opinion. He gave legislators three paths to follow, and declared that relief funds can not be made available through economies in governmental costs.

Schnader offered three alternatives through which relief funds can be made available at a special session.

These, he said, are:

1. Expansion of the borrowing power of political subdivisions.
2. Imposition of new taxes.
3. The first alternative coupled with a bond issue which would enable the state to reimburse political subdivisions for part or all of the money expended for relief.

The attorney general asserted that he was not advocating any one of the three, but merely was trying to remove misunderstanding indicated in numerous letters received by the governor and by legislators.

Mayor Imposes Sentence On Lewis

John Bame Also Given Sentence On Charges—Allen Is Discharged

George "Rocky" Lewis and John Bame, arrested Wednesday afternoon while conducting a meeting on the Croton school property without permission of the school authorities, were sentenced to 30 days in the Lawrence county jail in default of fines of $50 and $10 respectively imposed on them Thursday afternoon by Mayor Charles B. Mayne on charges of disorderly conduct. Their companion, Chester Allen, was discharged following the hearing held at 4 o'clock, the mayor finding that he is a young man and that this was his first appearance in court under circumstances of the same character.

Charges of vagrancy and disorderly conduct were read to Lewis by the mayor at the opening of the hearing, but at the close of the hearing Mayor Mayne found that the charge of vagrancy had not been sustained and dismissed it, sentencing Lewis to pay a fine of $50 with the alternative of 30 days in the jail. Bame and Allen were only charged with disorderly conduct. Bame was found guilty and Allen discharged.

Lewis admitted that he was the Communist leader in this district and demanded a jury trial but was informed by Mayor Mayne that there was no jury trials given on charges brought under city ordinances. When sentence was passed, both he and Bame declined to pay their fines and said they would take an appeal.

Testimony was offered relative to the charges by Officers U. G. Harper and M. J. Young, S. Garvin Ligo, superintendent of buildings for the school district; Miss Ruth Drescher and Miss Mildred Sargent, teachers in the Croton school; W. A. Hoffmaster, principal of the Croton school, and Edward I. Book, janitor of that school.

Lewis acted as attorney for the three defendants, while City Solicitor R. M. White acted in behalf of the city.

OLD LANDMARK BEING RAZED

An old building formerly used as a wagon and carriage shop, owned by Pitts Bros., is being torn down. The building in earlier years was located at the forks of the road where the John McGinnis residence has since been built. It was originally erected by members of the Free Presbyterian church and used for church purposes until 1822, afterwards used as a school building. In 1873 it was removed to the village of Mt. Jackson and used by Pitts Bros. and Miller in manufacturing and repairing carriages, wagons and farm implements. During the past few years its use has been abandoned and a brick garage erected. With the removal of this building another old landmark has passed into history.

GRILL FLEISCHER ON LINDBERGH KIDNAPING

Prisoner Gives No Information

Kidnaping Case No Nearer Solution As Result Of Fleischer Quizzing

HOLD PRISONER ON OTHER CHARGES

By CARL L. TURNER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

DETROIT, June 10.—Search for the kidnapers and slayers of the little son of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh appeared no nearer its goal today than before Harry Fleischer, leader of the notorious "Purple gang", surrendered the county prosecutor here voluntarily.

Authorities here, both federal and county, after grilling Fleischer for hours about the Lindbergh case, expressed the belief that the much hunted gangster knows nothing about it.

Arraign on Murder Charges.

Their interest in Fleischer, however, does not end with assurance that he had no part in the Lindbergh case. They will arraign him during the day on first degree murder charges, which also are denied by the gangster.

Although he says he can prove he was in jail at the time the crime was committed, Fleischer is charged with the slaying of Hymie Paul, Joseph Lebovitz and Joseph Suiker. They were mowed down by gangster bullets in alcohol warfare here on September 16, last.

Three of Fleischer's pals, Ray Bernstein, Irvin Milberg and Harry Keywell, are serving life sentences in Marquette prison for conviction on similar charges. Fleischer's attorney, Edward Kennedy, claims they were convicted on perjured testimony and hopes to obtain a new trial for them.

CONVENTION HOST OF Y. P. C. U. TO CONVENE IN CITY

Beaver Valley U. P. Church Groups Rallying At Third U. P. Tomorrow

Members of the Beaver Valley Young People's Christian Union of the United Presbyterian church today were ready to assemble Saturday afternoon and evening in the Third U. P. church for their annual spring convention.

At two o'clock, the opening hour, a song service will commence under the leadership of Albert H. Heinz, nationally known Y. P. C. U. song leader. Moses M. Shaw, national secretary for the Union, will then lead an open forum discussion and slides of last summer's convention at Lake Geneva, Wis., will be shown. Business of the convention will also be transacted.

Local Girl President

The afternoon session will be adjourned at 5:10 and the delegates will then view the display of publicity mediums used by the various societies last year. A banquet will be served by the ladies of the church at 5:30 and Miss Margaret Brenner, New Castle, president of the Beaver Valley Y. P. C. U. will act as toastmistress.

The evening session will include a message on the theme of the Convention, "Youth and Evangelism" by Rev. Dr. Clarence J. Williamson, New Castle, and the awarding of trophies. Members of the executive committee will present a pageant and new members of the committee will be installed at the evening service.

The Intermediates will hold a separate convention in the afternoon. Rev. Frank Black, Portersville, will deliver the main address and several intermediates will give short talks. Several other features on the Intermediate program promise to make it the best in Beaver Valley Y. P. C. U. history.

Society Is Wanting Homes For Kittens And Also Canaries

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 10—Have you a little canary in your home?

Or perhaps an agreeable little kitten?

If you haven't, just submit your bid to the Western Pennsylvania Humane society for one of the little songsters which are being put on the block.

The Humane society confiscated 20 canaries and seven cats from an old woman on the north side, who kept them in a one-room zoo.

Neighbors, fearing that the old woman, a recluse, had met wtih violence, summoned police who forced an entrance, and discovered the canaries and cats as the woman's sole companions.

The birds and animals were turned over to the Human society while the woman was conducted to Mayview. The Human society is auctioning off the canaries and the Animal Rescue league is attempting to establish homes for the kittens.

Several New Contagious Cases

Charles Klingensmith, 23 months, 102 Mulberry street, measles.

Allen Houston, 6, 614½ Spruce street; chickenpox.

2500 Year Old Problem Still Proves Puzzle

Educators Claim To Have Discovered Method To Trisect The Angle

By JOHN SCOTZIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PITTSBURGH, June 10—This dispute began 2,500 years ago and it isn't finished yet.

In fact, it's just beginning to wax warm.

Although the ancient Greeks were forced to admit defeat, two Catholic educators now claim they have trisected the angle.

The Very Rev. J. J. Callahan, president of Duquesne University, Pittsburgh, was the first to announce that the "impossible" had been achieved.

Then, came the Very Rev. Julius J. Gliebe, formerly an instructor at St. Anthony's College, Santa Barbara Calif., to deny that Rev. Callahan achieved the correct solution to the problem. Rev. Gliebe advanced his own counter-formula as the only true method of dividing the angle into three equal parts.

Using twelve lines and almost every geometrical figure available, Rev. Gliebe asserts he has at last achieved the true solution of this century-old vexing problem.

Rev. Callahan became interested in solution of the problem as a means of recreation from his religious and educational duties. The Greek Sophists 2,500 years ago gave up in disgust and asserted the angle never could be trisected.

But Rev. Callahan was all wrong, according to Rev. Gliebe.

"Father Callahan started at the wrong end of the thing and ended where he ought to have begun, that is, with a given angle," Rev. Gliebe declared.

Rev. Gliebe's solution consists of the dozen lines, the host of geometrical figures, and statements in English, Latin and Greek.

Senate Takes Up New Relief Bill

Wagner Bill For $300,000,000 Relief Is Taken Up By Senate Today

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 10.—With both administration leaders and Democrats pledging support, the senate today took up the $300,000,000 Wagner bill for relief of hunger and distress throughout the ocuntry.

Senator Watson (R) of Indiana, Republican floor leader, announced he had no objection when request for unanimous consent to consider the bill was made by Senator Wagner (D) of New York, its sponsor.

The bill would appropriate $300,000,000 for five-year loans to states through the Reconstruction Finance Corp. The loans would be made solely for relief of distress upon certification by the governor that his state had exhausted its own funds.

Repayment of loans would commence in 1935. If the state failed to meet its obligation the money would be deducted from federal road grants.

HORNED TOAD MASCOTS BRING HARD LUCK

(International News Service)

DENVER, Col.—"Hasta" and "Manana" were supposed to mean good luck to Manuel Gonzales, but to Police Sergeant Walter Fox, who knows his Spanish, the words meant "Until tomorrow".

Gonzales, arrested on a vagrancy charge, was found to have two horned toads in his pockets. He explained to the police sergeant that he carried them for good luck. Their names, he said, were "Hasta" and "Manana".

"Sure," said Fox, "Hasta Manana—that's Spanish for 'until tomorrow.' Until tomorrow your little luck pals aren't working. You're vagged. Savvy?"

And so Gonzales and his two mascots remained in city jail "until tomorrow".

EXONERATION OF TAXES IS ASKED

Exoneration of their county taxes was asked by a delegation of about 35 persons, mostly women, who visited the county commissioners Thursday afternoon. Margiotti Makes Eight Hour Plea Before Jury

(International News Service)

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., June 10.—The longest plea ever made for a defendant in the Luzerne county court was concluded Thursday afternoon by Charles J. Margiotti, noted criminal attorney.

For eight hours, Margiotti pleaded for the life of Peter Duca, accused of the murder of Alex Campbell, Pittston Mine union leader, during a labor feud in 1928.

Margiotti began his closing remarks to the jury at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning and continued for more than two hours. He spoke for three more hours when court resumed at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Judge B. R. Jones ordered a night session but Margiotti, the special prosecutor who sent Irene Schroeder and Glenn Dague to the electric chair, was too exhausted to appear at 7 o'clock.

When court resumed at 10 o'clock Thursday, Margiotti began his concluding remarks. At noon Thursday, Judge Jones instructed him to finish by 1 o'clock and refused to adjourn court until he had concluded. Margiotti finished his remarks to the jury at 12:45 Thursday afternoon.

Would Bar Heavy Trucks From All Roads On Sundays

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, June 10.—Surveys designed to bar heavy trucks especially those with huge trailers, from the roads on Sundays and holidays were authorized Thursday by Gov. Gifford Pinchot.

The governor announced that he had asked both Secretary of Revenue Clyde L. King, and Secretary of Highways Samuel S. The governor wants to know what the estimated cost to the state is from operation of heavy duty trucks on the public roads and also the extent to which they interefere with the operation of passenger vehicles.

Both department heads are expected to recommend whatever additional legislation may be necessary to make effective the steps they propose.

Fred L. Rentz,
New Castle News:
My Dear Mr. Rentz:

In behalf of the Publicity Department of the State Women's Christian Temperance Union, I want to express my thanks to you for your generous space of May 28th.

My apreciation is summed up in that little poem entitled "My Ends" appearing on that page.

As an organization our lines are not always cast in pleasant places. When something especially fine is done for us, it always brings to my mind these words of Ingersolls—

"Every generation has its heroes, its pioneers, its ideals

The people always have been and always will be

America divided into at least two classes

The many who with their backs to the sunshine worship the past

The few who face the dawn

The many who are satisfied with the world as it is

The few who labor and suffer seek to rescue the oppressed and help mankind."

Thanking you again and wishing you continued success,

Respectfully,
EDITH M. WAGNER.

Reed And Davis Vote Against Vet Economy Measure

Assist In Defeating Bill Which Would Strike Off $48,000,000

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent Of The New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 10.—Senators David A. Reed and James J. Davis voted with the group successful this week in striking from the Economy Bill that section calling for economies of about $48,000,000 in expenditures on veterans.

The special committee which wrote the bill recommended that special dispensations amounting to approximately $48,000,000 to certain types of veterans be suspended during the coming year. The senate ousted this proposal by a 63 to 14 ballot, both Reed and Davis voting to strike out the veterans economies.

Senators Reed and Davis also both voted to substitute for a ten per cent reduction in federal salaries an enforced thirty-day furlough without pay. The furlough proposal was rejected by a 41 to 36 ballot.

NOW SCIENCE TELLS WHY BRAN IS SO GOOD FOR HEALTH

Kellogg's ALL BRAN Has "Bulk" and Vitamin B; Also Healthful Iron

By using Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, millions of people have overcome common constipation, and the headaches, loss of appetite and energy that so frequently result.

New laboratory tests show ALL-BRAN supplies two things needed to overcome temporary and recurring constipation: "Bulk" to exercise the intestines. Vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of lettuce. Within the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently it clears the intestines of wastes.

Further experiments prove ALL-BRAN provides twice as much blood-building iron as an equal amount by weight of beef liver.

Eat this delicious cereal and avoid pills and drugs. They cause artificial action, and often lead to harmful habits.

Try two tablespoonfuls of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN daily — sufficient to overcome most types of constipation. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor.

ALL-BRAN has a delicious, nut-sweet flavor. Enjoy as a cereal with milk or cream, or use in making fluffy bran muffins, breads, omelets, etc. Recipes on the red-and-green package. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

PLAN MISSION PICNIC

Superintendent B. J. Watkins of the City Rescue Mission today announced that the annual outing of the organization's Sunday school will take place on June 23 at Lakewood beach.

Her Friends Try to Help Her . . . but she won't Listen . . . she Doesn't Care

"What am I going to do . . . I'm so nervous I could simply scream." How often have you felt this way yourself?

These Hysterical Women!

CRYING . . . sobbing . . . laughing! Tears in her eyes one minute . . . smiling the next! What a state to be in! She has no control of herself . . . the slightest thing drives her to distraction.

Tired out all the time . . . overwrought . . . nerves strung to the breaking point, she tries to do her work.

She looks old, haggard. She is irritable, unreasonable. Her friends try to help her . . . she won't even listen. She has reached the point where she doesn't even care.

How pitiful it is to see her suffering . . . when it is so unnecessary!

Constant headache, backache, bearing down pains and dizzy spells are robbing this woman of youth, beauty and health.

If she would only give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a chance to help her . . . how well and happy she could be.

This simple remedy has benefited 98 out of every 100 women who have reported using it.

Don't think that your troubles are any different. Don't think that this medicine won't help you. It can! Give it a chance and watch those headaches and backaches yield to its tonic action.

The new tablets are so easy to take. They slip into a handbag as neatly as a compact. And what relief they give during those "trying times"!

But whether you prefer the Compound in tablet form or in liquid form, at least, try it! Let it prove that it can do for you what it has done for others. See for yourself what blessed help it can really be.

NEW! Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in Tablet Form

Grotto Follies Attracts Throng

Record Crowd Is Expected To Attend Musical Production At Cathedral Tonight

Last night's production of the Grotto Follies of 1932, put on by the Youngstown Grotto under the auspices of the Legion of Honor of the New Castle Consistory, proved one of the finest musical comedy presentations that has been seen in this city in a number of years.

It was not an amateur production as many had supposed but assembled in the cast were some of the best entertainers in this section of the country.

The dancing acts were exceptionally meritorious, and a beautiful chorus of talented girls provided a background to the various song hits to put them across in pleasing style.

The acrobatic dance number by the Gething Sisters, big-time artists, although young in years, was one of the best exhibitions of its kind ever seen here, while Sally McCloud another diminitive miss scored a tremendous hit with her song numbers. Mae Simpson and Jackie Mountain proved two of the cleverest tap dancers to appear here in some time and they were brought back several times for encore numbers.

One of the hits of the show was the appearance of Ex-sheriff Peter Corll, Judge Clifford Woodside, Judge H. C. Huffman, and Chief of Police William Hughes of Youngstown in a specialty number entitled "Six Sons of Harmony" which brought down the house.

Every singer on the program is a professional, and there was nothing smacking of the amateur about any part of the show. The big audience which was in attendance last evening was well pleased with the show, and a number have already bought tickets to see the production again tonight.

It is a show well worth the time of any person to attend.

OVER 400 DELEGATES AT CO. CONVENTION

unites the church and the home; Christ went into the homes while he was upon earth, bringing comfort, healing and hope and so it is today, with Christ in the Home, troubles are a minor issue."

"If the Home is to be for Christ there are requirements, not material, but things of the spirit, which are eternal, not temporal and artificial, and they are: daily reverent worship of God in the home; more of the church in the home; the symbol of God must be kept in the heart through the week.

A day of spiritual reckoning is before us, and we must remember the days of old, when the apostles, baptized by the Holy Spirit, continued steadfastly in the faith." The benediction was pronounced by Rev. T. C. Henderson of the Moravia Presbyterian church.

Dinner was served in the Mt. Jackson Grange Hall by the women of the Westfield church.

Afternoon Session

The afternoon session opened at one o'clock with registration and a worship period, during which many hymns sung by the audience, created the proper atmosphere for receiving the messages of the session.

The reports of the nominating committee and resolutions committee were heard and their reports were unanimously adopted.

The treasurer's report was read and recognition was given the Pulaski, Mt. Jackson and New Wilmington districts for their 100 per cent payment of budget.

A banner award was made to the Women's Bible class of the Westfield church, taught by Charles McClelland, for the largest percentage of members in attendance at the convention.

A beautiful memorial tribute was paid by Robert Strickler, Jr., to Mrs. J. L. Stratton, and C. A. Martin who had both served for many years as officers of the Association, and passed to their Heavenly home during the past year. The memorial song was beautifully sung by Mrs. W. P. Felch and Sam Lewis, with Albert Taylor at the piano.

Addresses Made

Dr. G. S. Bennett, pastor of the First Christian church, made a brief address on "Your Help" which meant in a material manner, and the offering and pledges were taken at this time.

Mrs. J. M. Bailey, the children's work specialist, spoke on "What the Children Need" and said that the child must be treated as an individual with instincts and tendencies of his own. We must meet the changing conditions in teaching the children, as the child's life of today is more complex than it was a few years ago. The child needs to be understood, needs affection, and needs examples of a high type to imitate.

He must be given the right to choose and to be heard, and these rights can be given best in the Christian Home.

Dr. E. H. Bonsall addressed the gathering on "Young People and World Problems" and he said "We must prepare to go along with the younger generation in their relationship to Christ. They have their own ideas and ideals as to the Christian life and we must respect their opinions and guide them in the right way." The young people of today are getting to the heart of things and the outstanding world problems they are wrestling with are the race problem, attitude to law; the Prohibition question and the war and peace problem. They must be guided to a clear conception of Jesus Christ."

Dr. James A. MacDonald, pastor of the South United Presbyterian church of Youngstown, Ohio, spoke on "Evangelism in the Bible School." He said "The young people are crying for church unity, but a difference of creed is not the great question, for those who have a saving relationship with Jesus Christ are one in faith." "Evangelism in the Bible School and church are needed today to combat the philosophical deliberations that leave the people in a bewildered condition as to what to accept and what to reject". The excuses for not joining with the church must be combatted with Christ like teachings and arguments.

He said "The Christian church represents the Lord, and as pastors and teachers we must endeavor to bring others to the knowledge of the saving power of the Christ."

Rev. Thimas Pollard, pastor of the East Brook Methodist church pronounced the benediction and various groups met in the different parts of the church, with the special speakers leading the groups.

A Christian Fellowship dinner was served in the Grange Hall by the women of the host church.

Closing Session

A stirring address, "The Church on Fire" was eloquently given by Dr. James MacDonald at the evening session of the convention, and with his stimulating remarks ringing in their ears the large audience of delegates, workers and friends went out with the determination to put forth greater efforts for the Sunday school work in an evangelistic way.

A special song service, led by John W. Owens, preceded the address and the choir from the First Baptist church, with Garth Edmundson at the piano, gave a number of beatiful selections.

A recognition certificate was presented to the Adult Class of Lawrence county having had the largest number present during the fiscal year just closing. This was presented to George C. Cox, president of the Men's Bible class of the First Baptist church. Their highest attendance for the year was 287.

Never in the history of Sabbath School conventions in Lawrence County has the entertainment been so efficiently handled and the pastor of the Convention Church, Rev. R. M. Haverfield, received hearty appreciation, as did also Mr. C. A. Stewart, chairman of the entertainment committee, the ladies of the Westfield church who served two splendid meals, the parking committee who handled the parking so well and the Decorations committee whose efforts were responsible for the beautiful flower baskets that extended clear across the front of the church.

The remark frequently heard was "We have never attended a convention where we have received so much from the speakers and have been so well treated" and the State representatives Rev. E. H. Bonsall Jr., Young People's Superintendent, and Mrs. J. M. Bailey, Children's Division Superintendent of Allegheny County, came in for their just amount of praise, as did the other speakers on the program.

Payless Furlough Rather Than Wage Reduction Favored

Reed And Davis Vote Together Against Reducing Federal Employes' Wages

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent
New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 10.—Senators David A. Reed and James J. Davis voted consistently together in favor of a payless furlough rather than a wage reduction during consideration of the economy bill passed this week.

Reed and Davis both voted for the furlough plan as a substitute for the wage reduction when the senate first declined to accept the furlough. Later, they voted with the group successfully bringing about reconsideration of the vote approving the wage cut and succeeding in substituting the furlough for the salary reduction.

Both of the Pennsylvania senators believe the furlough is more fair than a wage cut to federal employes. They both voted against recommitting the economy bill to committee after the furlough had been substituted for the wage slash and for final passage of the bill when it was approved by the senate.

Alumni Class Chairmen Are Asked To Report

Number Of Invitation Cards Must Be Known At Once

Mrs. Rachel Pollock Taylor, president of the High School Alumni Association, today issued a request that all class chairmen, get in touch with Dr. Howard Smith without further delay in regard to the number of invitation post cards that they will require for out of town members. The plans for the big reunion on July 1 at the Cathedral are progressing nicely and hopes of reaching the thousand mark at the dinner, which opens the event, are now held, due to the number of older classes that will have large representation at the affair.

Coolidge Against Cancelling Debts

Former President Does Not Believe Debts To Foreign Nations Should Be Cancelled

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 10.—Former President Calvin Coolidge reiterated his unqualified opposition to the cancellation of war debts owed the United States by various European rations.

America was not the beneficiary of the great war, but "the innocent victim of a war made by other nations," Coolidge declared in an article which appeared in the current Cosmopolitan magazine, on the stands today.

"I know we are not trying to over-reach anybody," he asserted. "Nor trying to drive a hard bargain. The money we furnished we had to borrow. Some one must pay it. It can not be cancelled.

"If we do not collect it from Europe we must collect it from our own citizens."

Musical Program At Croton Church

Fellowship Dinner Features Anniversary Program And Choir Renders Cantata

The week has been full of features for the Croton avenue Methodist church in the anniversary celebration being observed this week in honor of eighty-five years of existence, and one of the most delightful was the Thursday evening fellowship dinner, which was served by the women of the church in the dining room, with places arranged for over two hundred at long tables centered with gorgeous baskets of flowers the greeting gifts of New Castle florists.

As the congregation and friends filed into the dining room their ears were greeted with a lively march tune, played by Earl Williams orchestra which included Eleanor Whitten, leader, trumpet, violine and accordian player: Elva Whitton, drums: Mary Lou Clark, banjo: Rosalyn Murda, saxaphone and Helen Berkman, pianist, and throughout the serving of the dinner, the girls entertained with novel vocal numbers as well as instrumental selections.

Dr. C. G. Farr, superintendent of the New Castle district, invoked the divine blesing as the large group sat down to dine and good fellowship reigned supreme during the dinner hours and social hour which followed.

At 8:15 the group, augmented by other members and friends, assembled in the auditorium, and Mrs. June Bernard, chorister, presented a choir of forty voices in the splendid cantata "The Good Shepherd" by Wilson. Each voice blended harmoniously with the other and was most heartily received by the audience.

A nice sum for the church work was realized when the special Chest Love Offering was lifted.

This evening will be featured by a grand big track carnival at Taggart Field with P. H. Bridenbaugh, Ralph Gardner, William R. Klee and George F. Thomas as supervisors.

A parade from the Diamond to Taggart field will precede the meet.

USE POLICE TO AMUSE NOISY YOUNGSTERS

(International News Service)

WATERLOO, Ia., June 10.—In the role of entertainers rather than disciplinarians police quieted a disturbance created by a group of children here.

When a report came to the station that children in a residential section were becoming noisy, the police scout car set out to investigate.

Near the scene of the disturbance the car became mired in the mud. While a patrol car and towing equipment from a garage struggled to extricate the scout car, the children looked on, amused, and the disturbance gave way before this new attraction.

Americanism: Saying "no" seven times: wondering how to get rid of the man, meekly signing on the dotted line.

The Veterans' Bureau evens things up. The less chance an officer had to win medals, the higher pension he gets.

Telephone Ruse Aids Robbery In Philadelphia Bank

Huge Amount Of Securites And Bonds Taken By Thief

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, June 10.—More than $200,000 in securities and bonds was stolen from the Girard Trust Company by a daring telephone ruse this afternoon.

The certificates were snatched from a desk from which, a few seconds previously, a clerk had been summoned by a fake telephone message.

The bonds had just been delivered by messenger from the Pennsylvania Company for insurance on lives and granting annuities.

Detectives, hasily summoned to the bank, said the robbery bore all the earmarks of the job of a New York gang which has systematically mulcted metropolitan financial houses of more than $1,000,000 in the past year.

AGED MAN LIKES AIR

OKLAHOMA CITY—Col. S. Holcomb of Miami, Okla., a civil war veteran, has become an aviation enthusiast at 91 years of age. He made his first flight traveling from Miami to Oklahoma City.

B. & O. Freight Car Is Robbed

Karl Wright, Lieutenant of the Baltimore and Ohio Police, reported to the city police today that a merchandise freight car had been broken into while in the yards of the company. Two cases of Union Workman tobacco, a three pound can of Bohemian Malt and 27 pairs of blue serge trousers were taken.

TOOK HIS $70,000, HE SAYS, AND WENT AWAY

(International News Service)

TAMPA, Fla., June 10.—J. W. McGraff, of Boston, Mass., was in earnest and his new-found friends were, too—but differently.

McGraff said he met two men with whom he bet on a horse race and "won" $70,000.

Before the men would pay off, they insisted McGraff present his $12,000 bet in cash to prove he was "in earnest," McGraff procured the sum from his bank in Boston and gave it to the two men.

He's still waiting for his $70,000.

Police Officers Not Color-Blind

(International News Service)

ABINGTON, Pa., June 10.—James Crutchfield, of Chestmont, is not colorblind. But perhaps he thought some of the Abington police were. At any rate, he went out riding one night recently in his automobile. The license tags were gold on blue background—blue on gold background, such as the 1932 Pennsylvania tags should be, and generally are.

Patrolmen Scott and Streeper saw the Crutchfield car proceeding along Easton road with 1931 tags. A few minutes later the two officers, Crutchfield, and his tags were all en route to the police station. Jimmie tried to explain it all to Magistrate Williams, who merely said: "Look at your money. See if you've got a $10 gold certificate with figures marked in blue ink. That's the proper combination for 1932. That'll do for your fine. Then you can hunt of $3.50 more. That's my costs. When you pay you can go home. I'm not colorblind—and you know, by now, the officers are not colorblind."

Correct this sentence: "There goes the phone again," said she, "but I'm too tired to answer it."

Here's What You Don't Know About Historic City Of Boston

(International News Service)

BOSTON, June 10.—Believe it or not, Boston has:

A street still paved with beach stones;

A building divided into 14 sections, each named for a president of the United States;

A church bearing the figure of a rat carved in stone;

A building that displays repeatedly a Latin motto of two words presented as three which make no sense;

And three statues, one of which displays prominently a pair of eye glasses, another an empty turtle shell and the third a miniature representation of its own chief figure.

These are all located in the heart of historic Boston, between the state house on Beacon Hill and the Fens in the Back Bay.

These and other interesting fact questions have been propounded in a location quiz by Dean William Marshall Warren of Boston university's college of liberal arts. The contest is for liberal arts students, and there are three prizes for the winners.

The purpose of the quiz, according to the dean, is to develop an observant eye among the students.

"The aim of the contest," he said, "is to see the unfamiliar in the familiar. The average student is not only blind, but deaf. I do not mean literally, but that he is blind and deaf to many of the phenomena that may be seen about him in his daily associations.

Ability to see the unfamiliar in the familair means a personal gain in developing one's perspective."

It has been a hobby of Dean Warren for many years to find unsuspected and surprising details in Boston thoroughfares that are traveled constantly.

In his list of questions, the dean gave his students a hint as to the location of the rat, revealing it was carved on stone in the new Old South church—but where?

DISHWATER CAUSES DYNAMITE SCARE

(International News Service)

FORT WORTH, Texas, June 10.—C. E. Burgess visualized terrorism winding its tentacles around the West Thirteenth St. neighborhood here recently.

Burgess was crossing a vacant lot when he happened upon a package which had a dynamite fuse protruding from it. He notified employes of a nearby plumbing establishment.

A curious crowd gathered as policemen responded to the call from the plumbing shop. They remained at a respectful distance s one of the officers picked up the package to unwrap it. The newspaper wrapping covered a bottle which contained a grayish liquid.

The officer sniffed it cautiously —dishwater.

FINDING OF BAYONET CAUSES MYSTERY

(International News Service)

TYLER, Texas, June 10.—Finding of an ancient bayonet of the type used by the confederate army is creating speculations here.

The bayonet was found buried by a group of workmen making an excavation within the city limits.

As there are no battlefields of the civil war in this section and as none of the residents here ever owned such a weapon, the history of the relic remains a mystery.

MAN INJURED AT CITY JAIL

Andy Quinn, arrested late yesterday afternoon on a charge of drunkenness, sustained a considerable gash on the head this morning, when he fell from one of the iron bunks in the city jail in which he is being held. It was found necessary to call a physician to dress his injury.

Traffic makes way for a presidential candidate. He needn't dodge anything but issues.

Inquiries Show Slow Trend Back To Small Farms

Demand For Cheap Places Increases As Jobs Vanish

HARRISBURG, June 10.—Activity in the farm real estate market is slow, according to reports reaching the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, but the number of persons interested has increased.

Inquiries are usually for small, cheap farms from 10 to 60 acres in size, worth not over $2500, well located and suitable for either poultry raising or truck growing. Occasionally there is an inquiry for a dairy farm. Many of the transfers involved changes for city real estate.

City unemployed, most with previous farm experience, or people of foreign extraction with slack work in the mines, constitute the bulk of the inquiries, but farmers are said to be usually the purchasers of the larger acreages. The only credit available, judging from reports, is that which the seller is willing to extend, and the terms are usually arranged to suit the purchaser. In some localities, mortgages at 5 per cent have been offered.

The March 1 reports from both farm land owners and realtors to the Federal State Crop Reporting Service, indicate that farm real estate in Pennsylvania suffered an average decline of 5 per cent in value during the past year. The price level at the present time is estimated to be 4 per cent. below that prevailing during 1912-1914. Low prices for farm products, high taxes and scarcity of credit are blamed for the situation.

Relatively speaking, Pennsylvania is more fortunate than the midwestern states where the present value of farm real estate his fallen to as much as 40 per cent. below the pre-war level. The average for the United States is 11 per cent. below the 1912-1914 average.

Paint Stones To Guide Aviators In Connecticut

Said That It Will Be Best Marked State In Union

(International News Service)

VATICAN CITY, June 10.—Pope, Connecticut will be the "best marked state in the union" for the guidance and information of aviators, and the cost will be amazingly low.

The work is being carried out by boy scout troops all over the state under the supervision of the state aviation department. The method is simple, but the results will be striking.

Cobble stones, with which New England fields abound, are laid out in lines on open spaces in strategic places about the state then painted chrome yellow, so they are visible from great heights by day and from moderate heights on moonlight nights. More than a dozen signs have already been completed and permission from land owners has been obtained for a great many other signs.

After lines are plotted by State Aviation Commissioner Charles L. Morris or Deputy Jack Lennox, a troop of scouts can complete one sign of average size in about a day. Including paint, even the largest sign costs less than $10. The signs identify towns, guide to airports and indicate distances.

In addition to marking the airways, the sign building gives scout troops chances for overnight hikes. Other states are reported to be greatly interested in the plan.

Wings Of New Plane Altered In Flight

Claim Advantages Over Old Style Of Airship

(International News Service)

BERLIN, June 10.—An improved airplane with wings the area of which can be increased from the pilot's cockpit during the flight has been demonstrated at Tempelhof Air Field by the inventors, Professor Heinrich Schmeidler of Breslau University and Albert Newman, an engineer.

They claim that their invention allows higher cruising and lower starting and landing speeds with a respectively higher safety factor. In addition, fuel consumption is claimed to be lower with planes equipped with the new type of wings than with standard machines.

Within the rigid wings there are contained smaller "sub wings" which can be wound out from the cockpit so that the wing area is increased by 20 per cent. The result of this is that the plane takes to the air after a 30 to 50 per cent shorter run on the ground, according to Professor Schmeidler.

Before landing, the sub wings are brought out again to act as sort of brakes.

MOTHER AND CHILDREN LOST IN HOME TOWN

(International News Service)

MALDEN, Mass., June 10.—Mrs. Marie Bergstrom and her six children weren't lost, she told police, only their home was. However, police found it for her, just where she left it.

The Bergstroms had moved to a new home on Taylor street, and in getting one of the children ready for school, the mother decided to see that he didn't get lost. Having no one to watch the rest of her flock while she was away, she dressed them all and started for the school.

The pupil was left at his proper destination, but in trying to find her new residence, Mrs. Bergstrom and the children tramped the streets of Malden for seven hours in a vain effort to find the home which seemed so elusive.

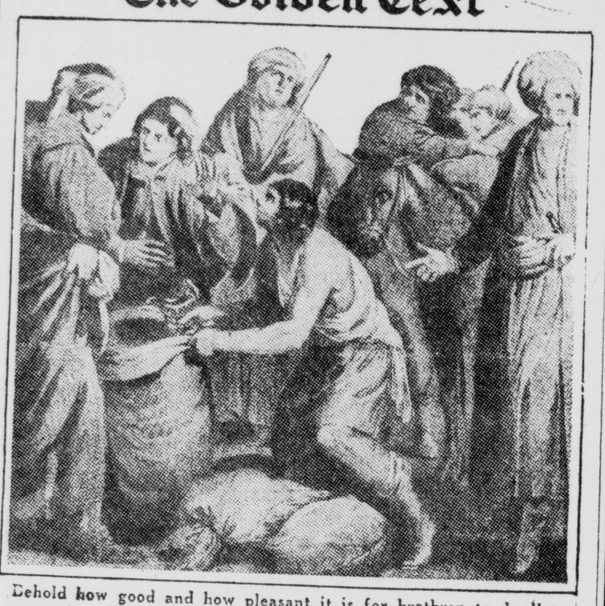
"Judah The True Brother"

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text



Behold how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity.—Ps. 133:1.

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

(The International Uniform Lesson for June 12 is Genesis 44:18-45:15, particularly 44:18-34, the Golden Text being Psalm 133:1, "Behold how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity.")

Judah's plea in behalf of Benjamin ranks as one of the masterpieces of the world's oratory, one of the most eloquent and impassioned appeals any advocate has ever made in behalf of a client.

Famine brings 10 of Joseph's brethren down to Egypt to buy grain. Thus they come and bow themselves before Joseph, the governor, unwittingly fulfilling the dreams of his childhood that caused them to sell him 20 years before. He charges them with being spies, and in defense they give him the information for which his heart yearns concerning their father and youngest brother, Benjamin, at home with Jacob, their father.

Until their case is cleared Simeon is held as a hostage to assure their bringing Benjamin with them to Egypt on their next journey for food. Judah pledges his own life to Jacob as surety for Benjamin's safe return and Jacob reluctantly acquiesces.

Thus Benjamin is brought before Joseph and the family circle of the 12 brothers is again strangely completed as Joseph seats them at a banquet table in the exact order of their ages, except that the portion of Benjamin is five times that of his brethren, a partiality which elicits no jealousy from the older brothers.

Departing laden with grain, the 11 brothers are amazed at being overtaken by Egyptian officers and charged with the theft of the governor's silver divining cup. So sure are they of their innocence that they agree to the death of the one found guilty. To their consternation, the cup is found in Benjamin's sack. However, they all stand by him and return to face the governor. When permitted to escape and leave Benjamin to his fate in Egyptian slavery, not one will accept his freedom. All are willing to lay down their lives for Benjamin's release.

Judah's Appeal

Judah, who 20 years before had proposed to his brothers that they sell Joseph, becomes the spokesman for the brothers in behalf of Benjamin. And what a plea he makes! He reminds Joseph of their words on their former visit, and their reticence to separate Benjamin from their aged father, and how they had said, "The lad cannot leave his father: for if he should leave his father, his father would die.

He tells how reluctantly his father had allowed Benjamin to accompany them, and how he personally had become surety for the lad's return. He rises to the climax of his appeal as he offers himself for slavery to ransom Benjamin: "Now therefore, let thy servant I pray thee, abide instead of the lad a bondsman to my lord: and let the lad go up with his brethren."

It is enough! The very brother by whose proposal Joseph had been sold into slavery 20 years before now is willing to die in slavery to ransom Joseph's brother and his. Divine grace has accomplished its purpose in changing their natures and making them fit channels for the grace God was yet to show through Judah in Jesus Christ, descended from him as "the Lion of the tribe of Judah."

Joseph's grace in forgiving his brethren and taking them unto himself in love and providing abundantly for them is a type of the forgiveness and grace of our "Elder Brother," Jesus Christ.

PRINCETON

MISSIONARY MEETING

Mrs. L. W. Greenlee entertained the Herman Missionary Society, Thursday. There were seventeen present. Quilting and making patches occupied most of the day. At noon a delicious covered dish luncheon was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Stevenson, Mrs. Nancy Blair, and Mrs. Jennie White.

Mrs. Kildoo had charge of the program during which Rev. and Mrs. Greenlee were presented with a beautiful quilt, done in yellow and white. The society is now working on a blue and white name quilt which is to be sent to Miss Annabelle Stewart, missionary teacher at Colcord, W. Va.

The next meeting will be held in the church.

Representatives From District Will Be Entertained Here In October

A business meeting of the Grand International auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers took place in the city building Thursday afternoon. A part of the session was spent in making plans for the entertainment of the district circuit of auxiliaries, which will take place in New Castle October 27.

At that time the G. I. A. of this city will be hostess to about 14 division representatives. The business sessions of the day will probably take place in the city building. The dinner arrangements have not yet been made.

Just one more business meeting will be conducted by the auxiliary, Thursday afternoon, June 23, at which time arrangements for the annual picnic will be made. The picnic will probably be held in the last week of June or first week in July.

Children's Home Has Twenty-One

Crawford-Oakridge Home Is Well Filled; Other News Of Seventh Ward

Twenty-one boys and girls are residing at the present time in the Crawford-Oakridge children's home, on North Liberty street extension. This home is maintained as a refuge for children whose parents are temporarily not in the position to support them.

Miss Mary L. Glenn is in charge. Now that school is over the youngsters are kept busy with light chores games, etc.

Observations In 7th Ward

There are over 50 street lamps in seventh ward and everyone received a bath yesterday. This is nothing unusual, but added to the fact that these lamps are also being given a coat of brilliant green paint, brings the conclusion that the seventh ward lamps are getting some very concentrated attention this week.

Whether or not his idea is to collect together enough snake skins to make a coat is a matter of conjecture. Anyway he has one skin, formerly worn by a six foot blacksnake, that is a "beauty" as those things go. It was caught near here, the local business man says.

On North Cedar street, near the intersection of Madison, a group of youngsters have erected a tent and use it for a play house, evidently.

MABEL WILSON LODGE

Mabel Wilson auxiliary to the brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen met last evening at 8 o'clock and discussed business matters. The meeting took place in Malta hall.

Tifereth Israel Confirms Class

Shabuoth Holiday Is Ushered In Thursday And Confirmation Will Be Held Sunday

Last evening at sunset Shabuoth or the Feast of Weeks was ushered in with fitting ceremony at the Tifereth Israel synagogue on South Jefferson street, with Rabbi J. Shapo officiating.

Shabuoth is being celebrated by Jews the world over at this season because it marks the end of the seven weeks period of the counting of the Omer and also because it commemorates the anniversary of the promulgation of the decalogue on Mount Sinai.

It is customary at this season to graduate or confirm worthy young folks from religious school at the satisfactory completion of their prescribed course of study. And thus, in connection with this holiday celebration, Tifereth Israel religious school will hold its confirmation exercises on Sunday, June 12, at 2:30 p. m. at the synagogue. Rabbi Shapo will confirm the following girls: Marian Ginsburg, Eleanor Markley, Helen Markley, Sylvia Saul and Esther Wolfe.

Visitors are cordially invited to be present.

Boro Employees Receive 15 Per Cent Salary Cut

Council Passes Salary Ordinance Over Burgess's Veto Last Night

ORDINANCE IS EFFECTIVE JUNE 15

ELLWOOD CITY, June 10.—Borough employees in Ellwood City will be required to receive another salary cut according to the salary ordinance passed over the veto of Burgess J. C. Turner at the monthly meeting of council last night in the city building. This now will mean 16 per-cent of all former salaries.

The salary ordinance had been presented a month ago by Councilmen G. H. Morrison, chairman of the Finance committee and was passed on the first reading. No immediate action was taken by council at that time because they wished to study it more. Last night they decided to set aside their rules and pass the ordinance on the second and final reading. The first reading took place on May 20.

At the time of the second reading of the ordinance last night, it was without the signature of Burgess J. C. Turner who had vetoed it. When presented for a vote the ordinance was passed 8 to 1, more than the necessary two-thirds vote to pass it over the veto. The ordinance is to go into effect on June 155. The cut will affect the original salary and will not be subtracted from the present 10 per cent cut.

To Give Refunds On Street Pavement

Find Error In Computations For Pittsburgh Circle Assessments Here

ELLWOOD CITY, June 10—A decision to give a refund of 30 cents per foot front to those residents of Pittsburgh Circle who have already payed their assessments for the paving of that street, was made by the borough council at their monthly meeting in the city building Thursday evening.

This decision was made after hearing a written report made by C. F. McClaren of this city who presented figures and facts to uphold the above statement. In his check-up Mr. McClaren found that there were errors in the computations which he corrected and made the above report.

Recently the residents of Pittsburgh Circle had protested that the assessments were too high. The protest led to the investigation made by Mr. McClaren.

While on the matter of streets President J. E. Powell told council that bricks on Glen avenue are showing signs of raising up. This street is bonded and council decided to notify the contractor to investigate the situation and make the necessary readjustments. The street committee, the borough manager, and the borough solicitor were delegated to see that this is carried out.

Boro Solicitor Gives Decision On Responding To Fires Outside Ellwood

ELLWOOD CITY, June 10.—In a written opinion to the borough council at its regular meeting in the city building last night, Borough Solicitor, J. W. Humphrey stated that the local firemen are freed from compulsory attendance of out-of-town fires.

The matter will be left entirely in the hands of the fire chief who may go to the fire or grant the use of his equipment to volunteers. Should the fire department answer an out-of-town call, then the adjacent borough or township will be required to pay the compensation insurance in case of an injury there. During their stay there the firemen will be considered as employees of that place.

An ordinance establishing the bond of the borough treasurer and all final reading. The ordinance was presented by the finance committee. Council will set the amount of bond later.

Judgment Reversed In Damage Case

In an opinion handed down by Judge R. L. Hildebrand at county court this morning a judgement is reversed in the case of Howell J. Jenkins against Fred Innocenti. This case came before the court on a certiorari to a Justice of the Peace, who entered judgement for the plaintiff and against the defendant in the sum of $100, the damages being claimed by reason of an automobile accident. The defendant appealed on the grounds that the justice had failed to show jurisdiction. The court found that the records were not specific and complete. The decision means that Innocenti will not have to pay. Some different action may be brought.

Asks Damages For Injuries In Auto Accident

Suit Is Filed By Ellwood City Woman In Butler County Court

BUTLER, Pa., June 10.—Damages of $10,000 were asked of Edward I. Hartung, Zelienople, former Harmony line employe, in a suit filed Thursday by Miss Martha M. McLure of that place, for injuries received by her November 27 of last year while riding in an automobile owned and driven by Hartung, according to her statement of claim.

Miss McLure, a bookkeeper in the Peoples National bank of Ellwood City, was riding with Hartung to her place of employment, when the machine in descending a long hill, turned over twice. Hartung, according to Miss McLure, was driving without chains, notwithstanding the fact the highway was covered with fresh snow, and proceeded to drive down the hill immediately east of Camp Run without putting his machine into low gear.

They were proceeding at a rate of 35 miles an hour, according to Miss McLure, when the car skidded and turned over. She suffered a fracture of the right collar bone, the plaintiff alleges, fracture of both bones of her left forearm and was bruises and shaken and shocked generally.

As a result of her injuries, Miss McLure alleges she was obliged to pay out $1.014.95 for hospital care and medical treatment, and has not yet fully recovered the use of her hands and arms, as a result of which she is unable to follow her employment.

The accident, she avers, was due to carelessness on the part of the defendant, from whom she is seeking redress.

Make Plea To Keep Tennis Courts Open

ELLWOOD CITY, June 10.—A plea to keep the municipal tennis courts open this summer was heard by the borough council at its regular meeting in the city building last night. The plea from the Kiwanis club of the city voiced the opinion of many people of this city.

In the communication to council it was pointed out that people of the community must have a place to spend their idle time. The tennis fad has hit the city strong this year and the courts of the city are constantly in demand. There are three near the athletic field, two on Ninth street and two at Shelby. All but the ones on Ninth street are open to the public at all times.

Council and the board of education had both failed to provide for the tennis courts this year. It was after some pressure from the public that any serious consideration is being given the situation.

Minor Injuries Are Received When Car Overturns Thursday

The Ruby car was overturned and the occupants cut by flying glass. They were immediately taken to the nearby office of a physician where their injuries were dressed and then discharged. Miller escaped unscathed.

Police Protection Asked For Fifth Ward By Residents

Council Transacts Other Business At Regular Monthly Meeting Thursday

ELLWOOD CITY, June 10.—A petition bearing 135 signatures, asking for police protection in the Fifth ward from the borough council was heard at the regular meeting of that body in the city building last night. The residents asked for this protection from 7 p. m. to 5 a. m. seven days out of the week. Council considered the matter and decided to leave it in the hands of the burgess and police committee.

Other important matters were considered and transacted last night. Upon a motion of council, President J. E. Powell was authorized to select a committee to attend the Pennsylvania State Association of Boroughs to be held on June 22 and 23 at Conneaut Lake. This committee will do so at their own expense.

A new arrangement in a sewer system was outlined to council in a letter from the Department of Health, Harrisburg. The matter was left in the hands of the sewer committee and the borough manager for a report.

The local fire department was granted permission to take one of their trucks to the Allegheny Firemen's convention to be held in Stowe Township soon.

An ordinance from the Pennsylvania Department of Highways requesting permission to issue permits for the tearing up of streets here which the state upkeeps, was passed by council on the second reading. A representative from the highway department settled all doubt as to its advisability. He explained that it was only a precautionary measure by the state department to insure a satisfactory replacement of the torn up street. Permits for this purpose could be acquired at most any time.

In the monthly report of the local police department there were 14 arrests, of which 4 were discharged, 7 fined, and one forfeit. Total fines and forfeits yielded $195. Upon the recommendation of the police committee council will install a street light on the corner of First street and Pittsburgh Circle near the Shelby Club House.

The Health Department reported that there were 9 cases of mumps, 12 of measles, 1 of pneumonia, 1 of whooping cough, and 1 of chicken pox.

A request of the health committee, asking for an installation of a water line and fire plug near the garbage plant on Wampum avenue, was granted by council.

The action of the street committee in sanctioning the construction of a temporary ash hopper by the Ellwood Foundry Company, was approved by council. The hopper was for the purpose of hauling away some refuse near the plant. Officials of the plant stated that the hopper would be torn down upon receiving word from council to that effect. Also the request of S. R. Pistachio to cut out a section of the curb near his place of business was granted by council.

Proper officials of the borough were granted permission to execute a partial release of lien of H. F. Liebendorfer in the Fourth ward, at this time.

Upon recommendation of Councilman Morrison, council will place for sale the bath houses in Ewing Park which is now borough property. The selling of this was left in the hands of the finance committee.

A serious discussion was held on the matter of employing a caretaker of the picnic grounds in Ewing Park. Each councilman was of the opinion that borough property should be protected, if a satisfactory method could be found with out incurring much expense upon the borough. It was pointed out that the caretaker could be a man who could work his taxes out in this way. The matter was referred to the Rules and Regulations and Police Committees with power to act.

Whether the city will accept partial payment for garbage collection was left in the hands of the health committee and borough manager with power to act. The borough secretary, E. B. Moyer stated that it would be commendable if council would accept quarterly payments for this.

Borough Solicitor, J. W. Humphrey reported that he has been notified of a damage suit for $32,000 aganist the borough of Ellwood City. The plaintiff is George B. Stewart who claimed that his legs were seriously injured in a fall two years ago while he was in the employ of the borough. The finance committee was ordered to look into the situation and report back to council.

Non-Support Cases Are Heard At Court

Unemployment Is Urged As An Excuse In Many Cases Being Heard Today

Desertion and non-support cases occupied the attention of Judges Hildebrand and Chambers at court today. In most of the non-support cases husbands claimed that they had been out of work. A typical case was that of Menno Sagriponti, charged with non-support of children. He is divorced from his wife.

He stated to the court that he is perfectly willing to support his children if he had work, but he has searched everywhere and cannot find anything to do. He was willing to turn over his house, but it was figured that would not relieve the situation. The case was continued in the hope that he might be able to obtain work and support his children.

In the case of W. R. Wright, charged with desertion and non-support by his wife Stella M. Wright, and order for $5 per week payment was made. A similar order was made in the case of Thomas J. Dugan following an agreement.

Repeal Plank May Be Demand

Observer at Chicago Believes Convention May Act For Measure

SAYS SENTIMENT SHOWS INCREASE

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, June 10.—Demand for a clear-cut repeal plank in the Republican national platform attained snow-ball momentum today as incoming delegates swelled the rising tide of revolt against prohibition.

A fortnight ago it was debatable whether the administration would approve, or the convention next week adopt, a tepid resubmission plank. Today it is debatable whether the convention next week will be satisfied with anything less than a straight-out repeal plank irrespective of the administration's wishes.

Indiana Goes Wet

Indiana Republicans went wet with a bang yesterday, and few things could have made a greater impression upon the Republican leaders gathering here for next week's show. Not only has Indiana been dry since 1916, but it still has on its statute books the most drastic of all state enforcement laws. The fact that the Indiana convention yesterday would not be satisfied with any equivocal submission plank, but adopted a straight-out repeal plank, coupled with a recommendation for repeal of the Wright act, made a deep impression upon the national leaders gathering in Chicago.

By formal party action, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois are now added to the wet Republican states of the east in a demand that the party, as a party, take positive action on the prohibition issue. Under the circumstances, the confident prediction of the wets that next week will see President Hoover renominated on a wet platform seemed more than justified. Apparently they have the votes to make good their prediction.

Church Track Meet Tonight

Plans Complete For Gigantic Church Track Carnival At Taggart Field

FIRST EVENT AT 8:30 O'CLOCK

Taggart Field will be illuminated for the gigantic Second Annual Church Track and Field Carnival. The track events will start at 8:30 o'clock Daylight Time, following the parade that will leave the downtown section at 7:15 o'clock. Rev. Clifford Joshua is in charge of the arrangements. There are fifteen churches of the city, county and one from Erie entered in the meet. High School officials will handle the meet.

There is a lot of rivalry between the various churches for the meet this evening. M. E. won the meet held last year and the Colored boys are determined that they will wrest the honors from the Crotonites.

A strong team will be here from Erie Methodist church, and they expect to make a creditable showing. Wampum Methodists and Calvary Presbyterians will represent the county churches.

The young girl and boy athletes have been training for this meet for the past several weeks and they hope to make some fine records tonight. The St. Vitus team from the South Side is among the favorites to cop the title of Church champions. A lively meet is in store with eighteen events listed.

Head Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh, Klee, Thomas, Garner, and Nelson will have charge of the events, having kindly donated their services.

Only one gate will be opened at Taggart Field and that will be the Dushane street entrance. All must pass through this one gate. There is a small admission fee. Many valuable prizes have been donated by the merchants of New Castle for the various winners.

Perseverance looms brightly in the case of Don Hurst, Phil., who has been trying to make a place for his bat in the Big Six of the Major League clouters.

He made the grade yesterday when he copped three hits out of four times at bat and brought his percentage to .363. Chick Hafey was idle yesterday so Hurst displaced him.

The Big Six is headed by Paul Waner of the Pirates. Lombardi of the Reds is second with .390. Jimmy Foxx of the Athletics is third with .389. Hurst is fourth.

The last two places in the Big Six belong to Combs and Lazzeri of the Yankees. The former has a mark of .358. Lazzeri is 20 points below Combs.

Sid Wood and Gregory Mangin, Yankee net tourists broke even yesterday in the first two matches of an International series at Eastbourne, England.

Wood, who won the English title last yearr beaat J. S. Oliff 3-2, 6-4, 6-4, 6-1 while Benny Austin turned back Mangin in straight sets 6-1, 6-3, 9-7.

Wilson Features As Dodgers Win

Wilson Playing Against Chicago Cubs Homers With The Bases Full

PIRATES UPSET PHILLIES, 4 TO 3

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 10.—On the perspiring pate of Hack Wilson there bloomed today a sprig of laurel, replacing the two cans tied to the pudgy outfielder last winter by the Chicago Cubs and St. Louis Cardinals. With the bases full yesterday, he smacked his eleventh homer of the season against his former mates, the Cubs. And just to rub it in, Hackodemus drove in his team's fifth run as the Dodgers won, 5 to 2.

Mel Ott of the Giants hit two homers, beating the Reds 3 to 2.

Bobby Brown, of the Braves suffered his first defeat of the year in losing a 2 to 1 duel to Jess Haines of the Cardinals.

A late rally gave Pittsburgh a 4 to 3 shade over the Phillies.

Danny MacFayden, former Red Sox hurler, was beaten by Detroit, 5 to 4, in his first start with the Yankees.

The Athletics were nosed out by the Indians, 9 to 8, in a ding-dong battle.

Joe Judge's triple in the fifth gave Washington a 6 to 5 decision over the White Sox.

J. Smead Jolley of the Red Sox, who believes in being thoroughly impartial, scored one run for Boston and then committed an error that let the Brown win, 2 to 1.

Sir Henry Irving had the worst scrawl on record. It is related that he once wrote out a note, asking the box office manager at the Lyceum to give his friend, the bearer, two seats. When it was presented, the box office manager shook his head. "Sorry," he said, "but we don't make up prescriptions here."—The Wall Street Journal.

Spectacular Uprush Is Made By Auburn As Market Feature

BONDS REVEAL SLIGHT CHANGES

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 10.—In the face of another spectacular uprush in Auburn, fresh strength in the dollar and a reversal in Wheat, the stock market showed a hesitant tone today.

Steel issues were heavy and held around their lows. Leading issues like American Telephone, American Can and Allied Chemical showed narrow price changes.

Union Pacific gained about a point and Atchison was firm. Dividend uncertainties sent Western Union to a new record low.

Following its advance of more than 8 points yesterday the fireworks in Auburn started at the opening when the stock opened up more than 5 points higher at 50 on an initial transaction of 2,500 shares. It slipped about 2 points in the first hour and then started up with another rush, showing an extreme gain of about 12 points on the day. It was by far the most active issue on the tape.

Wheat rose more than a cent a bushel on the bullish government crop report but the advance was checked by better outlook for the Canadian crop. Bonds showed few changes of importance through government obligations improved. Cotton rallied after an early dip.

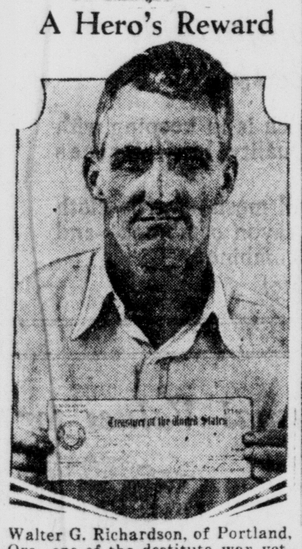
A Hero's Reward



Walter G. Richardson, of Portland, Ore., one of the destitute war veterans who took part in the "Bonus Army" parade in Washington, is shown as he displayed a check for three cents which he received from the United States Treasury. Richardson intends keeping the check as a curiosity.

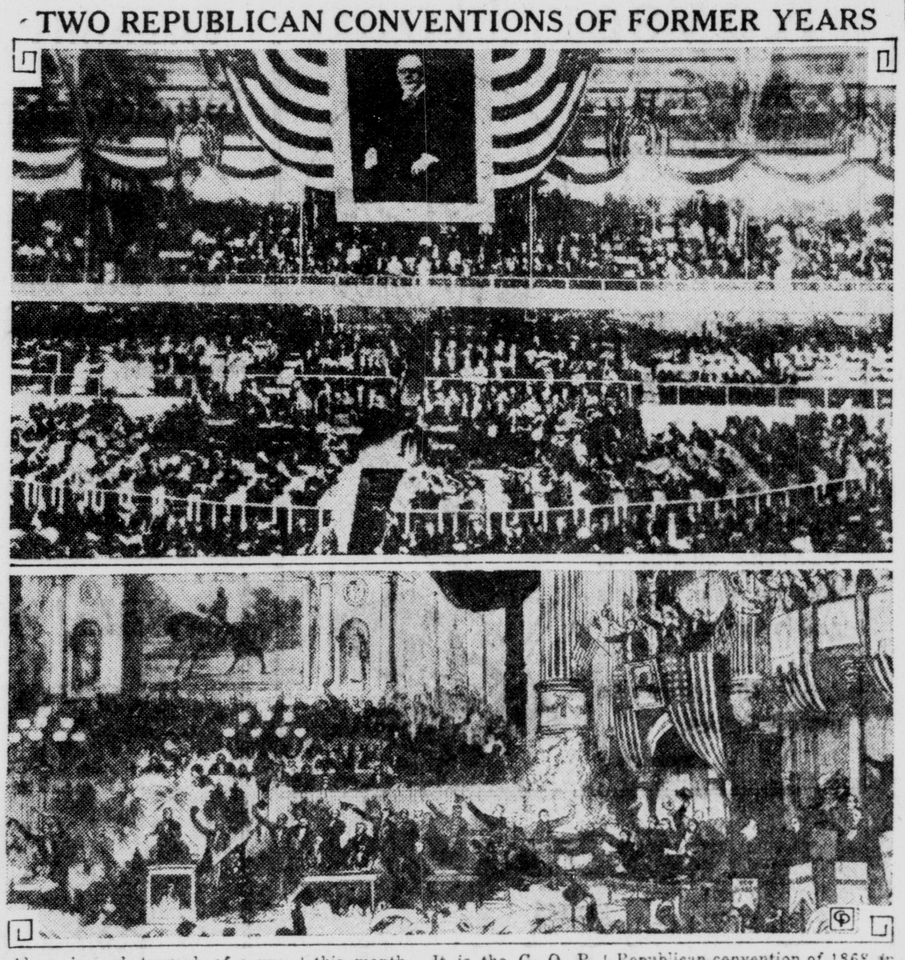
Old Lullaby for "Bonus Army"

Hewing strictly to the line of wartime routine, the bugler of the "Bonus Army" at Washington is shown as he blows taps, a signal that all lights must be extinguished at Camp Camden—this despite the fact that there are no lights to put out. Veterans from all over the United States, some accompanied by their families, are encamped here and intend to stay until something is done about their bonus certificates.

BEAUTIES DISPLAY LAST WORD IN BRIDAL ARRAY

Sylvia Sidney, screen player, and her girl friends are pictured displaying fashion's very last word in smart bridal array. Sylvia wears a gown and veil of hand-drawn alencon lace, the veil bordered with a pleated ruffle of mousseline de soie and caught with clusters of white lilacs. Her bouquet is of lilies of the valley and gardenias. The bridesmaids' frocks are of apricot mousseline de soie and their hats are of tulle and velvet flowers of the same color. Bouquets are yellow roses.

TWO REPUBLICAN CONVENTIONS OF FORMER YEARS



Above is a photograph of a previous Republican convention in Chicago, scene of both the Republican and Democratic conventions this month. It is the G. O. P. convention of 1904, when Theodore Roosevedt was nominated as the party's candidate. Below, the Republican convention of 1868, in Philadelphia, when Gen. Ulysses S. Grant was nominated for the presidency.

Senatorial dignity is what shows when a senator learns to hide the Huey Long in him.

But it never seems a narrow and meddlesome community to people who behave themselves.

USE ARTIFICIAL LUNG IN PNEUMONIA CASES

(International News Service)

DALLAS, Texas, June 10.—The oxygen tent or "artificial lung," a comparatively recent invention, will prove the savior of many lives endangered by pneumonia, in the opinion of specialists who attended Dallas Southern Clinical Society conference held here.

A person suffering from pneumonia suffers much the same as a person drowning, specialists explained. A weakened condition of the heart permits water from the blood stream to seep into the heart. Air space in the lungs is lessened, frequently to such an extent the patient dies from suffocation.

By use of the artificial lung enough oxygen can be taken into the lungs to keep the patient alive until the body becomes strong enough again to absorb the water from the lungs, they stated.

USES SAME TOOLS FOR THIRTY YEARS

(International News Service)

URBANA, Ill., June 10.—If ever there's a contest to determine who has the most ancient machinery still in active use on farms of the country, Rolla Booz, living near Pontoosuc, Il., will make a strong bid for first honors.

He has six implements that will total more than 175 years of constant use in season.

Among those which have served their thirty years' time and are still going strong are a binder, a mowing machine, disc harrow, spike tooth harrow, and cultivator. He also has a gang plow twenty-five years old.

Booz attributes the long life of his implements to a frequent use of the oil can, repairs, adjustment at the proper time and proper housing.

Get Rare Animals On Brazil Trip

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, June 10.—The fighting jaguar, the cat-like puma; the shy, beautiful rhea; the man-eating black jacare and hundreds of other animals were seen by more than 500 Philadelphians in the Academy of Sciences here.

The occasion was the first public showing of the motion pictures by Dr. James A. C. Rehn, secretary of the Academy, of what the Matto Grosso expedition encountered in the Brazilian jungle.

After more than four months in the wilderness, the expedition came back. They crated and shipped many animal. Some died on the journey to the "States." Others found their way into the Zoo here, and the University of Pennsylvania.

A group of jaguars will be mounted in the Academy. There are more than 1,000 fish and reptiles and several thousand insects to be classified. Over a hundred birds were brought back that have never been seen in Philadelphia before.

More than 60,000 feet of sound pictures were obtained by Ainslie R. Davis, of Collingswood, N. J.

PHYSICIAN PERFORMS DIFFICUT OPERATION

STOCKHOLM, June 10.—The surgical removal of a blood clot from the lung of a woman patient, an operation which must be completed within one minute, was successfully accomplished by Dr. Clarence Crafoord, young Swedish physician.

This was the third time that Dr. Crafoord performed this difficult task, accomplished only five times in the medical history of Sweden.

The operation demands unusual skill of the surgeon, as the normal flow of blood is artificially stopped for about 60 seconds. The ribs above the heart are cut away, the artery is opened and the clot removed by means of suction The artery is then sewed together.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle.

This is the season when the school janitor becomes more than just a janitor. With the closing of school the janitors are organized into groups of repairmen and for the next two months the repairs needed at the various schools will be completed.

There was a day when a school janitor merely swept the floors and fired the furnace. Now he has to be a stationary engineer, something of an electrical engineer, an authority on weather, and a philosopher. And if he is like Sandy Howard, able to make a speech on the slightest provocation.

There's always so much to do around the buildings in the summer. Seats that have broken down, boilers that need new flues, cement walks that need repairing, painting, varnishing and cleaning, light lines that need changing, grounds that need the attention of a gardener, bleachers that need fixed, windows that have panes broken out, these and a thousand other jobs.

At the present time the superintendent of Buildings and Grounds, S. G. Ligo has his janitors organized like an army and the advance upon needed repairs is going forward.

Up at the motor club the requests for western routes is starting. How to get to California the quickest way is the gist of most of them. With the Olympiad starting on July 30, the motorist who expects to make the trip is getting his routes fixed, for the long trek into Los Angeles.

Signs of the times. In the police station is the first advertisement of the new dog catcher, in which he offers to sell a pooch that has impounded for lack of a tag.

The old thrill out of watching the dog catcher seems to be lacking. Back in the days when Jack Young was doing it, he had a big net, like a butterfly net and many a chase down Long avenue has livened the day for the boys sitting along the curb.

Americanism: Demonstrating that publicity will put over anything: giving the people hard-times stories: wondering why they stay blue.

So New York is to have a "sleeping marathon." Probably suggested by the remarkable record of Tammany's conscience.

Amelia Earhart Visits Premier Mussolini Today

Famous American Woman Flier And Husband Granted Audience With Benito Mussolini

(International News Service)

ROME June 10.—Mrs Amelia Earhart Putnam and her husband, George Palmer Putnam, New York publisher, were received in audience by Premier Benito Mussolini at the Venezia Palace today.

The audience lasted 15 minutes. Air Minister Italo Balbo, who was present, confirmed Italy's intention of sending a fleet of seaplanes to the United States some time in the future, but did not mention any date.

Prior to meeting the premier the aviatrix and her husband spent 25 minutes with the Prince and Princess of Piedmont at the Quirinal Palace. The Putnams plan to leave for Milan aboard a military plane at four p. m., continuing on to Paris by train.

You see, it is safe to issue bonds only to finance projects that will bring in revenue—like a war, say.

ST. LOUIS, June 10.—While a woman gooseberry picker looked on unobserved two men were shot and killed in a wild, lonely section of St. Louis county today.

Although neither of the men had been absolutely identified a notification card and a chauffeur's license bearing the name "Clarence Body, of Collinsville, Illinois" was found in the clothing of one.

Mrs. Alice Jordan, had risen early to pick gooseberries when her attention was attracted by several shots.

Engineer Has Plan To Irrigate Plains

(International News Service)

DENVER, June 10.—Thousands of acres of semi-arid plains in Eastern Colorado will be converted into fertile farm land under a plan recently outlined by R. J. Tipton, assistant state engineer, at a meet of Colorado Engineers.

Tipton's plan calls for a half dozen or more tunnels to be dug beneath the towering peaks of the continental divide, through which water would be brought from the western slope of the Rockies to the opposite side of the divide and turned into eastward-flowing streams.

"Water available on the east side of the range has been entirely allocated," Tipton explained. "Development of the fertile lands of this region will be at a standstill until more water is obtained from the western slope."

NO DISPOSITION OF FENTON CASE

After hearing the evidence in the case of John A. Fenton, charged with surety of the peace by Millie Osborne at court this morning, Judge Hildebrand held Fenton pending a final order in the case. The trouble grew out of a dispute in a restaurant, during which the plaintiff claimed the defendant has made threats.
